Fondy 2nd, Patriots 5th Ships Remain Indoor Kings

BY RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MANITOWOC — Favored Manitowoc picked up 1-2 finishes in the pole vault and mile run to overcome a surprising Fond du Lac team and win its fourth consecutive Fox River Valley Conference Indoor Track Meet Friday night.

The Ships sailed in with 44 points compared to the runner-up Cardinal total of 41. Oshkosh, behind Dennis Dahl's pair of victories in the hurdles, edged past Sheboygan North for third place by a 26½ to 26 margin.

Appleton East made the strongest showing among Fox Cities entrants, finishing fifth with 14 points. Green Bay West was a close sixth with 13, followed by Green Bay Southwest, 4; Green Bay Preble, 3½; Appleton West, 2; and Green Bay East, 2. Flu-beleagued Neenah and Sheboygan South both failed to score.

The two top teams dominated the winner's platform. Manty had five victors on the 11-event program, while Fondy enjoyed three. Oshkosh counted two triumphs and Sheboygan North one. Six points were awarded to each team per winner with four for second, three for third, two for fourth, and one for a fifth place finish.

No Records

It was a lack-luster meet as far as any records were concerned. None of the athletes' performances really came close to the existing conference standards.

Manitowoc trailed Fond du Lac, 35-24, after the first eight events, but then 10 points in each of the next two events gave the Ships as insurmountable 44-35 advantage. The Cardinals copped the evening's last competition, the 10-lap relay, to add six more points to their total and account for the closeness of the final score.

Taking blue ribbons for the Ships were Jack Christiansen in the long jump with a leap of 21 feet, 1¼ inches; George Wood in the 60-yard dash in 6.6 seconds; Rocky Jiroch in the pole vault at 12 feet; Steve Reiderer in the mile at 4 minutes, 39.2 seconds; and the 4-lap relay team comprised of Wood, Christiansen, Dave Cornelius, and Dick Teteak at 1:18.2.

Fondy's victories were chalked up by sophomore Rick Koeck in the shot put with a heave of 54 feet, 5 inches; by Wayne Stark in the 880-yard run with a 2:05.3 clocking; and by the 10-lap relay team of John Wollner, Chuck Sina, Jake DeNell, and Dave Gustin with a time of 3:49.9.

Oshkosh picked up 12 of its points on Dahl's heroics in the second from third place and 6.3 hurdles. The swift junior first seconds back of the winner.

grabbed the highs in 7.95 seconds and then the lows in 7.55. Appleton East collected its points on two second places, one third, one fourth, and one fifth.

Closest Race

Jeff Forslund got a runnerup slot in the 60-yard dash to the defending champion Wood, in the best race of the night, as the Patriot dashman was timed in 6.55 seconds — just .05 behind the winner. And the 4-lap relay quartet of Forslund, Don Siani, Gary Gee, and Neil Gleason paced off a 1:18.95 to wind up .75 of a second behind victorious Manitowoc.

Jeff Mueller cleared 11 feet, 9 inches in the pole vault for the third-place showing. Manty, Jiroch and Dorak each went over the bar at 12-0, but Jiroch was declared the winner with fewer misses.

Don Knaack tossed the shot put 52 feet, 1½ inches to garner fourth in that event. East's fifth spot was notched by the 10-lap relay team of Larry Bailin, Wayne Bowers, Neil Gleason, and Steve Stone with a 3:47.5 clocking — 3.6 seconds slower than winning Fond du Lac.

Appleton West's lone points were registered by junior Mike Moriarty in the mile. Moriarty ran a 4:45.5, one-tenth of a point off Dahl's heroics in the second from third place and 6.3 hurdles. The swift junior first seconds back of the winner.

The Baton Is Passed from Appleton West's Mark Stevens to teammate Larry Alexander in this action from the 4-lap relay at Manitowoc's John F. Kennedy Fieldhouse. West placed second in its heat but failed to place in the first five times. (Post-Crescent Photo)

'Most Reasonable Offer' by Bucks Helps Land Alcindor

Multi-Year Pact Signing Next Week

BY DAN BERGER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The National Basketball Association has scored a big triumph over the rival American Basketball Association with the announcement that Lew Alcindor of UCLA has verbally agreed to a million-dollar contract with the Milwaukee Bucks.

Alcindor made rumors official Friday when he told The Associated Press he would sign a contract with the last-place NBA team. He said the prestige of the older, established NBA had something to do with his choice "but it wasn't the prime consideration."

Alcindor led UCLA to a third straight national collegiate title last Saturday and it was expected that the Bucks of the NBA and the New York Nets of the ABA would stage a giant money war for the rights to Lew.

But the 7-foot-11½ center told both leagues to make one sealed bid. Lew wanted no auction.

Milwaukee, which had earned the rights to Lew in a coin-tossing contest with Phoenix, made its bid last Monday. New York bid Tuesday.

"Most Reasonable"

"Milwaukee made the most solid and most reasonable offer, all things considered," said Alcindor. He was expected to sign a multiple-year contract for a figure "considerably more than $1 million" next week, a spokesman said.

After Lew chose the NBA, officials of the rival association followed Alcindor to Los Angeles, where his mother was hospitalized with a blood ailment. They asked Lew to give them one more chance to bid for his services.

NFL Franchise To Montreal Appears Likely

MONTREAL (AP) — Gerry Snyder, vice-chairman of Montreal's executive committee, said Friday this Canadian city is closer now to becoming a member of the National Football League than it was one year ago to getting a major league baseball franchise.

Snyder, instrumental in gaining a National League expansion franchise for the Montreal Expos, attended the recent professional football meetings at Palm Springs, Calif.

"Our chances of getting a football franchise are much better than they were of getting baseball at a similar stage," Snyder said. "Everyone I spoke to there was interested in Montreal."

'Naturally We're Delighted'

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The last-place Milwaukee Bucks, having seemed eager to sign Lew Alcindor at any price, were delighted but nontalkative today about the UCLA superstar's announcement he wants to be a Milwaukee millionaire.

"We have not yet signed a contract, and I cannot comment further than that," Bucks general manager John Erickson said after Alcindor announced he had reached a verbal contract agreement with the team for at least $1 million spread over five years.

Erickson would not comment on a report, said by the Milwaukee Sentinel to have come from a high NBA official, that the five-year pact would amount to $1.4 million, including annuities, a bonus and "side benefits."

"Milwaukee made the most solid and most reasonable offer," the 7-foot-11½ center told The Associated Press in Los Angeles.

Details Later

Erickson said details are yet to be ironed out. Other sources said a contract probably would be signed by Tuesday, and Erickson insisted the Bucks "never disclose figures."

Whatever the price, however, "naturally we're delighted" to win the eagerly sought collegiate star, the general manager added.

The big question, of course, is whether Alcindor can elevate the Bucks out of the basement. The NBA expansion club wound up its initial season in last place in the NBA eastern Division with a 27-55 record.

Coatta Tells Of Two More Grid Signings

MADISON (AP) — University of Wisconsin football coach John Coatta reported Friday that two more out-of-state football players have decided to enroll this fall.

They are Jeffery Bauer, a 6-foot-7, 205-pound end from Springfield, Mich., and David Holdender, a 6-foot-2 quarterback from Morton Grove, Ill.

Bauer starred on a team that posted a 7-1 record last season. Holdender helped lead Notre Dame High School of Niles, Ill., to an 8-2 slate.

Coatta said the Badger staff now has signed 22 players since March 15, the first date tenders could be sent out. Thirteen of the players are from Wisconsin.

First Two Rounds Of NBA Draft Set

NEW YORK (AP) — The first two rounds of the National Basketball Association draft, at which Lew Alcindor will be the No. 1 selection, will be held April 7, the league announced Friday.

The April 7 segment of the draft will be conducted via tele-draft being held in New York City a month later on May 7.

The Milwaukee Bucks getting the first selection have announced they will select Alcindor, the 7-foot-11½ UCLA star.

Thurmond's play also put Chamberlain in foul trouble and big Wilt was sidelined temporarily with five fouls with 8:51 left. He finished with 10 points while Jerry West had 36 and Elgin Baylor 20.

Take 2-0 Edges in Playoffs

Celts, Warriors Continue Surprising Play

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics and San Francisco Warriors, who failed to answer when opportunity knocked during the regular season, have the door wide open to day after being given a second chance in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Celtics and Warriors, fourth and third place finishers, respectively, in their divisions during the regular season, have answered the call by jumping off to stunning 2-0 leads in their semifinal series against Philadelphia and Los Angeles.

The Celts, after beating second place Philadelphia on the road, routed the 76ers 134-103 Friday night at home in their best-of-seven Eastern Division set. The Warriors followed with a 107-101 shocker over first place Los Angeles in the West. The other semis resume today when the host New York Knicks hope to continue the surprising trend by beating first place Baltimore in the second game of their East semi, and tonight when favored Atlanta tries to make it two straight against visiting San Diego.

Spark Returns

Epitaphs were being written about the once powerful Celts, a tired and aging team by the end of the regular season, but the playoffs have lit that old spark and carried them through a 79-point second half to bury the 76ers.

Boston took a 55-54 halftime lead despite the burden of four fouls on Bill Russell and the ejection of Sam Jones, General Manager Red Auerbach and publicist Howie McHugh during a first period argument.

But Larry Siegfried, Emmett Bryant and Satch Sanders, pressed into extra duty, spurred a 37-25 third period spread that wrapped up the contest.

Siegfried finished with 20 points, Bryant 15 and Sanders 18, while usual ace Bailey Howell hit 29 and John Havlicek 24.

2 Wins on Road

San Francisco's two upsets were still more startling because both came at Los Angeles. Nate Thurmond made the difference Friday night, outplaying Wilt Chamberlain by scoring 27 points and grabbing 28 rebounds. Teammate Rudy LaRusso, an ex-Laker, scored 29 points.

Thurmond's play also put Chamberlain in foul trouble and big Wilt was sidelined temporarily with five fouls with 8:51 left. He finished with 10 points while Jerry West had 36 and Elgin Baylor 20.

Play for Pride Against Wilt, Declares Warriors' Thurmond

By JACK STEVENSON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I wouldn't say the situation is don't play for money against Wilt Chamberlain, I play for pride," declared Nate Thurmond, a big reason the San Francisco Warriors hold a 2-0 in what he termed "my best edge over the Los Angeles Lakers in their opening National Basketball Association playoffs."

"He's acknowledged to be the greatest center in pro basketball and I want to be the greatest," said the 6-foot-11 Warrior who clearly outplayed his taller and larger foe in Friday night's 107-101 victory at the Forum, home of the Lakers.

"It will be very interesting to see who walks on the court for us," commented a disappointed Coach Bill van Breda Kolff of the Lakers. "I'm definitely going to make some defensive assignment changes. I critical exactly, but it certainly isn't rosy."

Thurmond led the rebounders with 28 and scored 27 points. The Warriors held a 2-0 in what he termed "my best game ever against Chamberlain."

The big Laker scored 10, hauled in 17 rebounds and spent the last five minutes sitting on the bench even though he had one personal foul left.

"The Lakers are playing give-and-take," commented Warriors Coach George Lee. "I don't think we've really played our best game yet and we're two-to-be the underdog because the Lakers have the supposed best players, but we have them on the run now. This was King's best game in two years."

Eight Trips to State

Eisenhower Loved Wisconsin Outdoors

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who died Friday, loved Wisconsin and made more visits to the Badger state to pursue fish than to fish for votes.

Eisenhower made eight trips to Wisconsin and spent five of them angling in the northern part of the state. He made two campaign visits—one in his own behalf and one to boost another GOP candidate—and on another occasion he came as, president of Columbia University, to attend an education convention in Madison.

Eisenhower first visited the state in 1946, when he was a war hero fresh from the battlefields of Europe. He and his four brothers, Arthur, Earl, Edward and Milton, had come to Wisconsin to go fishing near Minocqua.

A year later, the general went to Superior for trout fishing on the Brule River. The year after that, he was back in Minocqua—fishing again.

In 1949, Eisenhower came to Wisconsin twice. He and his brother, Milton, went fishing and golfing in Manitowish and Minocqua in August. He returned in October to attend the Madison convention of the Association of American Universities and the Association of Graduate Schools.

Love Affair
The five visits in four years solidified Eisenhower's love affair with the Badger State. But he had little affection for Wisconsin's maverick Republican Senator, Joseph R. McCarthy.

In October of 1952, Eisenhower made his first political campaign trip to Wisconsin and at Bay, he opened a bitter issue in the presidential race.

Eisenhower, speaking from the platform of his campaign train announced support for the Republican McCarthy, but denounced the senator's methods of attacking Communism in government. After that he chugged through Appleton, Neenah, Oshkosh and Milwaukee, shaking hands with McCarthy and criticizing the Democratic administration of Harry S. Truman.

Open Battle
Eisenhower carried Wisconsin in 1952, with more votes than McCarthy received in winning re-election. Their relations deteriorated after that and the President ultimately won a virtual open battle with McCarthy when he endorsed the Senate censure vote that broke McCarthy's power.

In his successful 1956 campaign for re-election, Eisenhower could not visit Wisconsin because of his health. But he carried the state with 61.8 per cent of the vote—slightly more than the 61 per cent he polled in 1952. His next visits to Wisconsin came when he was a former president. Eisenhower stumped for GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in 1964 and also supported the senatorial candidacy of Republican Wilbur Renk.

On that trip, Eisenhower visited Green Bay and went to the National Railroad museum to unveil a plaque dedicating the steam locomotive that pulled his train in England while he was supreme commander of allied forces during World War II.

Another Vacation
He returned in August of 1965 for another Minocqua vacation. Much of Eisenhower's time in Wisconsin was spent fishing, golfing and skeet shooting. On his final trip, he was adopted into the Chippewa Indian tribe.

A Wisconsin native never has been president. Ike came close to filling that gap. Eisenhower once said of Wisconsin, "I couldn't have chosen a more pleasant vacation location." He proved he meant it, by returning time and again.

At the end of his last trip in 1965 he said he hoped he could visit Wisconsin again, "but at my age, you never know."

Host Team Wins

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — Host Wisconsin Rapids dethroned Wausau High school as champion of the Wisconsin Rapids Invitational Track Meet here Friday night.

Rapids scored 55 points, Wausau 49. La Crosse Central 34, La Crosse Logan 13, Monona Grove 12 and Menasha 10.

Tim Fahrenkrug accounted for Menasha's lone first place when he won the shot put with a toss of 48 feet, 1 1/4 inches.

The Bluejay mile relay team garnered a third place and Russell Rae was fifth in the mile to account for the Menashans' other four points. Tom Scovronski, Dave Hoks, Bruce Gooding and Dave Baldauf made up the relay quartet.

Dave Schwandt of La Crosse Central set a huge jump record of 6 feet, 1 1/2 inches and Wausau's mile relay team produced the second new standard with a 3:42 clocking.

Other firsts and winning marks included long jump, Dan Turk, Wisconsin Rapids, 21 feet, 7 inches; pole vault, Doug Fiegel, Wisconsin Rapids, 12 feet; 440 Jim Giese, Wisconsin Rapids, 56.2; 880 relay, Wisconsin Rapids, 1:42.6; 40 yard dash, Don Loeffler, La Crosse Central, 4.7 seconds; half mile, Skip Kent, Wausau, 2:05.4; mile, Dennis Biel, Wausau, 4:37.4; and high hurdles, Schwandt, 6.8.

Reliance moved from a 38-34 halftime lead to a 64-44 third period advantage over Pizza Hut of Appleton, finally winning, 89-60.

Pact Signing Next Week

ABA reportedly offered Alcindor "a huge amount" more than Milwaukee's offer. But Lew had made an oral agreement with the Bucks and he said no money offer could challenge his integrity.

Lew said he had no goals established for his professional career.

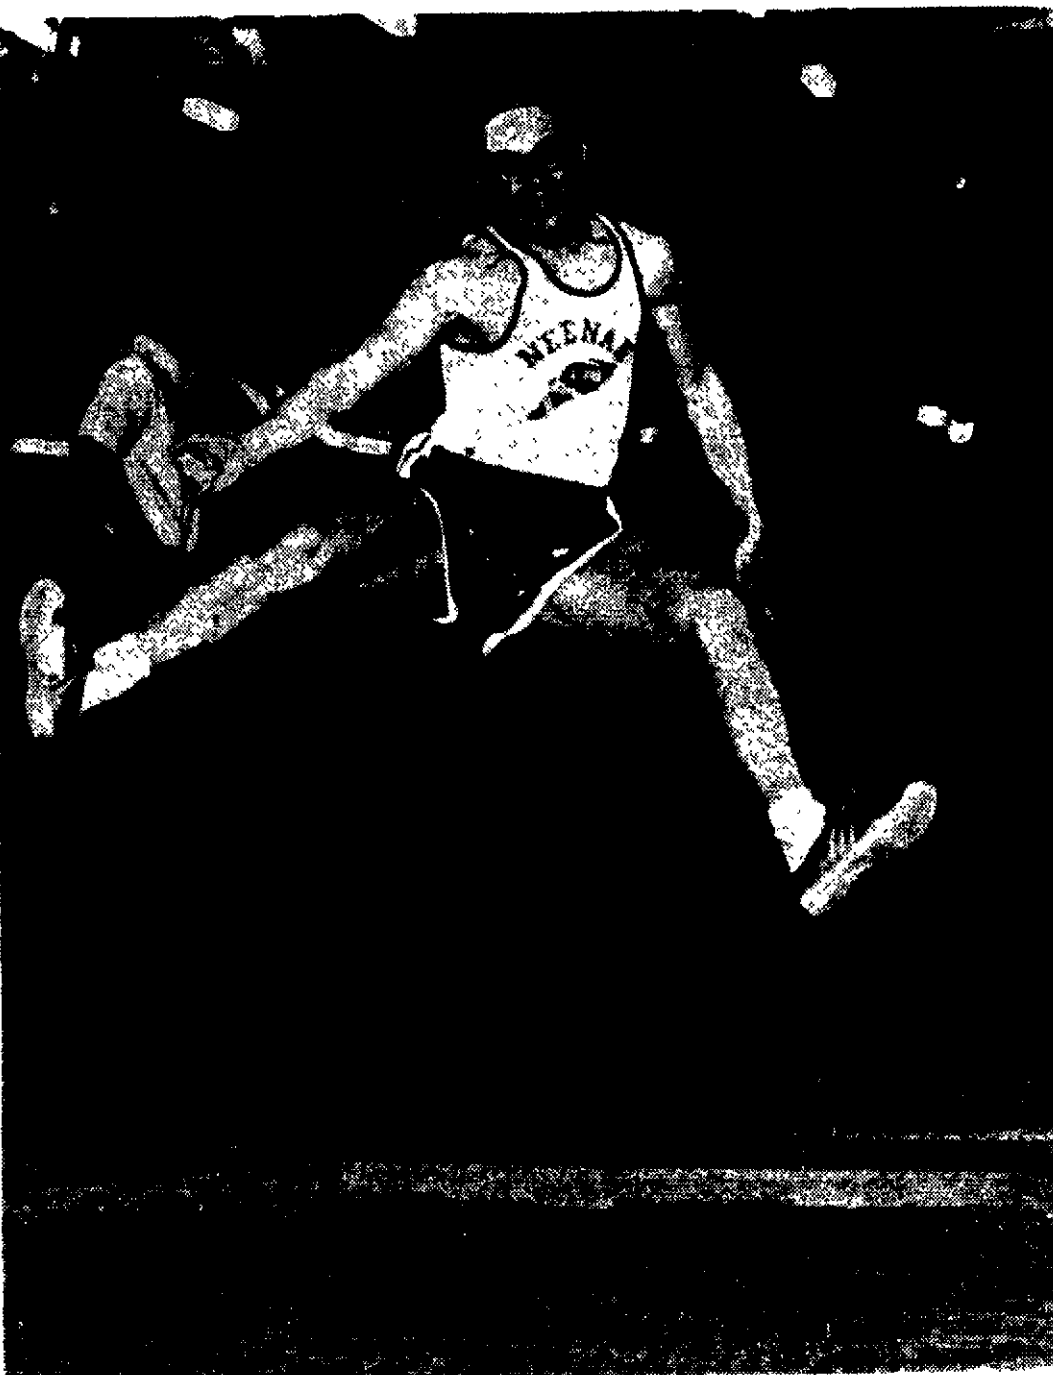

"That's too far ahead," he said Friday night at halftime of the San Francisco-Los Angeles Western Division NBA playoff game here. "The pros play a different tempo and there's a lot of pushing and shoving going on there."

Team Player
Alcindor never has been a very high scorer or rebounder. He was known at UCLA as a team ball player who would do anything for a victory.

"He won't have to score points to be valuable," said Jerry West of the Lakers.

But he would have meant instant success for the ABA some feel.

With Alcindor in the league, officials expected attendance to rise to the point where all teams could be self-sustaining. The loss of the big man undoubtedly is a financial blow as well as a dent in pride.

Allege NBA Contract Violations

'Millions and Millions of Dollars' In Damages Sought in ABA Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A suit for an injunction and damages likely to run to millions of dollars has been filed by the American Basketball Association against the National Basketball Association.

The ABA sued Friday in U.S. District Court in San Francisco, seeking to ban the NBA from signing any new contracts and claiming the defendant was trying to monopolize the sport. No amount was specified in the antitrust action, but ABA lawyer Fred Furth said "millions and millions" of dollars would be sought, based on an amount to be named later.

The suit came in the wake of UCLA center Lew Alcindor's agreement to sign with Milwaukee of the NBA, but Furth denied the fight for Alcindor had anything to do with it.

Wants Options Voided
The complaint accused the NBA and its 14 members of inducing players to "break contracts" which they previously didn't race against him Friday signed "with ABA teams. The ABA asked the court to void the so-called option contract of the type that forced San Francisco Warrior forward Rick Barry to sit out the entire 1967-68 season in 1:39.5.

after he jumped to his father-in-law's Oakland Oaks of ABA, probably will meet in the finals. Furth said in the 1968 draft of the ABA lost 39 out of 40 top players to the NBA.

The suit accused the NBA and its members of trying to blacklist any coach or players who tried to jump leagues.

The suit is the first such action filed in the basketball big by Long Beach State freshman Hans Fasnacht, who represented in a junior middleweight fight. West Germany in the Olympics, and a 6:49.5 by Southern California's 800 freestyle team.

Nicklaus, Goalby Cut

Bob Murphy Leads In Airlines Tourney

BY WILF GRIMSLEY

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A tightly-bunched pack of par wreckers set out in pursuit of pudgy Bob Murphy and his blast hot putter today in the second round of the $200,000 National Airlines Open Golf Tournament, but Jack Nicklaus and Bob Goalby weren't among them.

Nicklaus, who will be the favorite in the Masters Tournament April 10-13, can't seem to find the range with his big war club, the driver. He shot 73-75-148 here and missed the cut.

Goalby, defending champion in the Masters, is in the throes of one of the most atrocious and frustrating slumps that have ever plagued a big time golfer. He had 74-73-147, missing by a stroke.

Both went out to try to find a solution to their woes while the game's great and near-great took dead aim at the $40,000 first prize here, one of the sport's richest.

The 26-year-old Brooklyn-born Murphy, a brash, cocky but very personable young man of great girth, forged to the front of the pack Friday by shooting a course record-equaling 66 over the 6,927-yard, par 72 Country Club of Miami course for 135, nine under par.

8 Birdies
He had eight birdies in the remarkable round, including four in a row. He knocked in putts with his eyes closed.

"It reminds me of last summer," said portly Robert, a part-time watermelon salesman who won more than $70,000 in the Westchester Classic and Philadelphia Open on successive weeks and became pro golf's Rookie of the Year.

Right behind him at 136 is stringbean Dale Douglass, with 136, followed by Lionel Hebert and Butch Biard, tied at 137; Australian Bruce Crampton, Gay Brewer, Terry Wilcox, Terry Dill and Dick Rhyan, tied at 138.

The 56-year-old slamin' Sammy Snead remained in contention at 139, as did Arnold Palmer and Gene Littler at 142. But Bill Casper is broken out with allergy and back at 143 while PGA champion Julius Boros, suffering a stomach ailment, is farther behind at 145. South Africa's Gary Player, his putter ice cold, is at 144.

Chisox' Melton Homers Twice

Spray Hitters Show Power for Twins

By HAL BOCK

Minnesota unloaded some heavy lumber Friday and surprise, surprise... none of it belonged to Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison or Tony Oliva.

The Twins smacked four home runs—two by spray hitters Cesar Tovar and Rod Carew, another by rookie Graig Nettles and the fourth by relief pitcher Joe Grzenda—to overtake the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-5.

Killebrew, Allison and Oliva—the Twins' power men—had two hits Friday and have managed just two homers and 10 RBIs among them all spring. They left the heavy work to the others again Friday.

Tovar, who had six homers all last year, tagged a three-run shot to start the Twins' comeback from a 5-0 deficit against the Dodgers. Then homers by Carew, who had only one last year, and Nettles, who created some late-season excitement with five homers in 22 games in 1968, tied the game. Finally, relief pitcher Grzenda won it with a ninth inning homer.

Braves Romp
In other games, Atlanta ripped Washington 9-4, Houston edged the New York Mets 5-4, Montreal shut out Detroit 8-0, Kansas City shaded Pittsburgh 2-1 and the Chicago White Sox outslugged Boston 10-8.

Also, Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati 9-2, the Chicago Cubs dropped San Francisco 9-4, California took San Diego 8-1, Cleveland clobbered Oakland 12-2, Seattle edged California's "B" team 4-3 and Baltimore topped the New York Yankees 3-1.

Rookie Darrell Evans paced the Braves with a two-run homer and a double in a five-run seventh inning rally as Atlanta pounded the Senators. Del Unser drove in three runs for Washington.

Houston bunched three runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Mets. Doubles by John Edwards and Jesus Alou keyed the rally. Ed Kranepool had two singles and a homer for the Mets.

2-Hit Tigers
Three Montreal pitchers—Bill Stoneman, Skip Guinn and Carroll Sembera—limited Detroit to two hits as the Expos romped over the Tigers.

Wally Bunker worked six innings and Kansas City made a pair of first inning runs stand up for a victory over Pittsburgh.

Bill Melton hammered two home runs, leading the White Sox past Boston. Melton scored four runs, drove in two and had three hits.

Grant Jackson went seven innings in Philadelphia's victory over the Reds. Three walks and singles by John Callison and Don Money led to three Phillie Phanats in the first inning.

Ron Santo and Don Kessinger paced a 15-hit attack with three hits apiece in the Cubs' victory over San Francisco. Ken Hen-

Many Ceremonies

Sports World Pauses for Ike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sports activity across the country came to a temporary standstill today as athletes and fans paused to honor the memory of one of their own, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower, who played football at West Point before launching his brilliant military career, then found in golf a sanctuary from the rigors of the Presidency, died Friday in Washington.

The sports world quickly joined in mourning the loss of the stellar soldier-statesman, and memorial services at far-flung sports events were planned through Monday when the state funeral is to be held in the nation's capital.

The 24 major league baseball clubs were directed by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn to conduct ceremonies at exhibition games in Florida, Arizona and California. No games will start Monday, the official day of mourning, until at least one hour after completion of the funeral services.

NBA Ceremonies
J. Walter Kennedy, president of the National Basketball Association, directed each of the eight teams involved in post-season playoffs to observe appropriate ceremonies before weekend games.

The American Basketball Association called off three regular season games scheduled for Monday night. The NBA playoff game between San Francisco and Los Angeles will go on as scheduled.

A tribute also was planned before the start of the Atlanta 500-mile stock car race Sunday.

A minute of silence was to be observed during the third round of the National Airlines Open golf tournament at Miami, Fla., today and Monday's scheduled qualifying play in the Greater Greensboro, N.C., Open was postponed until Tuesday in deference to the memory of the former President.

Arnold Palmer, the great golfer who met the President at Augusta, Ga., after winning the 1958 Masters and played with him several times thereafter, was particularly saddened by Ike's passing.

"He loved the game," Palmer recalled. "When he was on the course, he could shut out the cares of the world."

Coaches-Teachers Quint Too Much For Old-Timers

LITTLE CHUTE — Avitus Ripp and Gene Janssen led the teachers and coaches to a 69-39 win over the old-timers Friday night in a benefit basketball game in the St. John High School Gym.

Ripp scored 15 while Janssen collected 11 for the winners. Ed Hammen and 'Junior' Salm pitched in with eight and three points, respectively. Ted Evers paced the losers with six markers, and Bill Hammen and Jim Harp netted four points each.

Fights Last Night

ROME—Sandro Mazzinghi, Italy, and Wilfred Hurst, Cuba, fought to a no contest decision in a junior middleweight fight. ST. LOUIS—Sonny Liston, Las Vegas, Nev., out-punched Billy Joiner, 1952, Cincinnati, 10.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I just finished cleaning six months' worth of grime and dirt from my aluminum porch furniture in ten minutes and just had to tell you how that was possible.

I used a plastic bottle — the type recommended for insecticides that attaches to a garden hose for spraying trees.

After cleaning the bottle carefully, I poured in an all-purpose liquid cleaner diluted in a water solution. Attached it to the hose and by just squirting away, all around the middle of each potato the accumulated dirt disappeared in a jiffy.

This particular bottle is con-backed paper, then buy some clear plastic page-protectors. Each protector holds one sheet of black album paper, making it possible to mount pictures on both sides.

I have thirty pages in my book, so that gives me sixty sides for pictures. The first book I made was filled with wedding pictures.

Ethel Bainbridge

Dear Heloise:

When I boil potatoes with the skins on, I just peel a ring and around the middle of each potato with my paring knife. The skin comes off like magic.

Doty McAlister

I think it's fabulous ... just like YOT!

I can't imagine it working, gals, but it does.

Madison Firemen Refuse Order to Return to Work

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin's capital city entered its third day after a firemen's walkout after firefighters refused to obey a court order that they return to their jobs.

No progress was reported as talks broke off Friday night between city bargainers and representatives of the Wisconsin Employment Relations Commission.

The Common Council has scheduled another emergency session today in an effort to end the first strike by municipal employees in the history of this city of 158,000 population.

Despite a restraining order issued Friday by Circuit Judge Norris Maloney, nearly 270 firemen remained off the job.

State law prohibits strikes by municipal employees. The firemen are members of Local 311 International Association of Firefighters, AFL-CIO.

What a pleasure to have it done and to have my furniture even cleaner than after the usual scrubbing.

This system would also be terrific for washing porches, cars or anything outside of your house.

Luise Wikes

That's a great idea! But be sure to keep soapy suds out of flower beds. Some types of suds might destroy precious flowers.

Heloise

Dear Heloise: Painless tacking! Shot! Tacks are always difficult to drive in tight quarters. You can prevent bruised fingers if you push the tacks through slips of paper and hold the paper instead of the tacks while driving them! Then tear the paper away.

WOW! Think of all the bruised fingers this would save. Also no more dropped tacks.

Marjorie Register

Letter of Laughter Dear Heloise: The children of a friend of mine found a new use for the electric toothbrush.

My friend walked into the bathroom last night and found her two boys scrubbing their pet turtle with it.

A Fan Dear Heloise: As you know, many cereals have little toys in them, and instead of arguing over whose turn it is for what toy — all of the toys go in a surprise bag.

Then when anyone is ill, they get to reach in the surprise bag for a few different things throughout the day.

A shot at the doctor's office is good for two surprises, lying quietly in bed is good for one.

This surprise bag is a real blessing as far as getting complete cooperation from sick children. Mine love it so much that they even donate things to the bag itself.

Nancy Ihrig

Dear Heloise: When your children are through with their old school notebooks, use them to make nice photograph books. Cover them with adhesive.

Police said the thefts occurred between March 14 and March 18.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer ordered a presentence investigation and scheduled sentencing for April 11. Miss VanHogan was released on a $200 signature bond.

Stephensville Voting Hours 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

STEPHENSVILLE—The Town of Ellington will have the polls open at the town hall in Stephensville from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesday's election, according to Frank M. Winkenwerder, town clerk.

disposal units are recognized by public health and conservation authorities as among the most important of the potential causes of pollution of public waters in Wisconsin, including the encouragement of undesirable algae growth in lakes.

Two years ago the legislature acted to impose public control over such installations, by requiring a permit before such a unit could be built.

Permit Fee

Now the legislature is being asked to provide assurance that the spirit of the law will be upheld, by raising the permit fee from a dollar to 10 dollars, and dedicating the receipts to the employment of specialists who will maintain a constant check on such installations.

The proposal is a part of the new state budget bill now being considered by the legislature, on the recommendation of Gov. Warren Knowles.

The new specialists would be assigned exclusively to inspecting existing installations, and to evaluating soil conditions in locations where new installations are proposed.

Require Plumbers

The bill also would require the installing to be done by a qualified plumber and would prohibit a dealer from selling a septic tank until the buyer or his plumber had the required installation permit. Plumbers would be required to correct at their own expense any installation which violated the state rules, or risk the revocation or suspension of their licenses.

The new bill would also provide for a $50 fee for the installation of the larger disposal systems used by private recreation camps, campgrounds, mobile home parks and similar enterprises.

Driver's Nose Broken When Car Leaves Road

Michael Thiel, 16, 1935 N. Oneida St., suffered a fractured nose when his car went into the ditch at Nicolet Road and Pine Street, a mile west of Appleton, about 10:45 p.m. Friday.

To Your Good Health

Treatment Can Ease Menstrual Discomfort

By George C. Thosteson, M. D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can anything be done to ease severe menstrual pain? I have been told that there should be no pain at all and that it is just caused by nerves. If this is true, can you prescribe? — J. L.

Yes, menstrual pain can be relieved.

About one woman in 10 will have enough pain during menstrual periods to require treatment, but the causes vary widely. Sometimes the answer is readily seen: sometimes the physician has to do a certain amount of study before being able to identify the cause.

Sometimes discomfort is due to relatively large blood clots which the uterus must expel. There may be a smaller-than-usual cervical outlet. Result: sometimes congestion, sometimes muscle spasm.

Incidentally, but not a trifling matter, exercise can be a significant factor. When a study was made of a large number of college women, it was found that those engaged in active sports or gym had much less trouble. Hence an exercise program, especially preceding a period, is well worth considering.

When water retention and congestion in the pelvic area is part of the problem, reduction of salt intake can be helpful. In some instances physicians find it necessary to use medication to reduce fluid retention.

In some cases one of the stronger, but non-narcotic, pain medication may be tried, with or without anti-spasmodic drugs to minimize cramping.

In severe cases, contraceptive (birth control) pills may be necessary.

You can't arbitrarily discard the thought of "nerves." Some degree of irritability and nervousness is not unusual at menstrual time, and a sedative or tranquilizer may be recommended by your doctor with good results.

Some women resent the menstrual phenomenon to a degree that ordinary discomfort becomes, for them, pain. The idea that a woman is "sick" at the time is an old-fashioned notion but it still persists, and that thought may have been subtly inculcated into the thinking of many girls when they were young. But a woman is not for that reason "sick." Menstruation is a perfectly normal function and should be accepted as such — but the old idea, subconsciously accepted, can cause its share of trouble.

Kahl, Schmitz Contend To Run Public Schools

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two men with long careers in education are competing for the full four-year term as Wisconsin superintendent of public instruction in the April 1 election. The winner will have to deal with the complex problems of the growing cost of schooling.

William C. Kahl, 60, the incumbent, was appointed in July of 1966 by Gov. Warren P. Knowles to succeed Angus B. Rothwell, who left to become executive director of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education.

Kahl is being challenged by Donald P. Schmitz, 45, superintendent of schools at Elmwood in Pierce County about 35 miles west of Eau Claire.

The department that Kahl heads as the $21,000 a year administrator was budgeted in the past biennium at $470 million. He has asked for $670 million for the next two-year period.

Kahl whose career in Wisconsin public education spans 37 years, calls for greater tax sharing to offset the local tax burden. He has proposed steps which would provide for an annual automatic adjustment in the guaranteed valuation behind each pupil in the state's equalized formula.

"Back to People" Schmitz has said. "I'm running on a program of giving the schools back to the people."

He charged that federal aid programs they can't afford. "All federal aids start at 100

You did not give your age, but in women of 30 and over, increasingly painful periods may be due to endometriosis. A pelvic examination to rule out that possibility or other potential pain-producing factors (cysts, fibroids, or other conditions) is very wise.

I repeat the answer: yes, the menstrual pains can be relieved, but treatment must be appropriate to the particular case.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it permissible to do interior painting (walls and woodwork) during the first months of pregnancy? — J. S. B.

I see no harm. You should have adequate ventilation in the room, pregnant or not. (If you have a history of miscarriage early in pregnancy, that's another matter. You should avoid activity that strenuous.)

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please tell me if my daughter, who started taking birth control pills the day before she got married, could get pregnant? She was ovulating at the time. — M. M.

Yes, pregnancy could occur under just such circumstances. To be effective "the pill" should be started one or two months before marriage.

To learn of the many factors that can be involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia, which concerns the esophagus, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Post-Crescent for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Thosteson answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

PSC Brought in Gas Service in Reach For Redevelopment Foe

MENASHA — The Public Service Commission notified a redevelopment area businessman this week that the amount of natural gas he would have to guarantee to use, in order to receive a gas line to his business, has been reduced from $700 to $250.

Charles Heinz, 337 First St., had objected strenuously during the public hearing on the Carley Redevelopment Plan March 5. A major complaint was that because of the project, Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. had refused to provide him with gas service unless he guaranteed he would use enough gas to pay for the installation in the next four years.

He said he needs the service to install heat in a former dairy company garage where he plans an auto repair shop.

Heinz said at first he had been told the amount he would have to guarantee would be $450. He said that later, apparently after utility representatives talked to redevelopment officials, the guarantee was raised to $700 if the installation was made in winter, $500 if done during summer.

Heinz said he would have signed the $450 guarantee but refused to go higher. He was uncertain how long he would be able to operate there if the property is needed for redevelopment.

He wrote to the Public Service Commission, which replied this week that the utility firm has given a $250 guarantee price now, Heinz commented, "$250 is agreeable to me." He already had gas installed to serve his home, which adjoins the former Gear's Dairy Garage building.

The PSC letter also informed Heinz that the gas utility has the right to demand a "reasonable" guarantee that its service lines would be used enough to justify the cost of installation. The PSC told Heinz he will be contracted again when the regulatory agency has received an explanation from the utility on how the $250 was determined.

15 Transfusions For Youth Who Was Hit in Nose

A 19-year-old Kimberly youth remains hospitalized today at Kaukauna Community Hospital where he is receiving blood transfusions after being struck in the nose while at the Starlite Bar, route 1, Kaukauna, Saturday night.

The youth's father notified the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department about the incident Thursday night.

The father said the boy is a hemophiliac. The boy was taken to the hospital Sunday and has received 15 transfusions.

The incident reportedly occurred in the restroom at the tavern. Witnesses said the attack on the youth was unprovoked. Investigation is continuing.

Alliance to Back Several Key Bills

Tax, Annexation Reform Plans To Get Top Priority From Cities

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MILWAUKEE — The Alliance of Cities said here Friday it intends to zero in on a half dozen bills pending in the Wisconsin Legislature.

Poor weather and road conditions limited attendance at the alliance meeting, but officials of nine cities who had reported before noon, agreed informally that tax and annexation reform bills will have top priority.

"We have to narrow our attention now to the key bills that will help lower the property tax and assist the cities with annexations," declared William Beyer, Racine, alliance vice president.

Tarr Proposals

He said the Tarr Task Force proposals and others affecting taxes of cities should now receive full attention from mayors, city councils, and citizens of Wisconsin's cities.

Mayor Henry W. Maier, Milwaukee, echoed Beyer's feeling and said there is no question but that matters affecting property tax relief and annexations are of utmost importance.

Maier said the alliance should set forth a strong policy statement on about six key bills pending at Madison.

Beyer also told alliance officials that whether members of the legislature like it or not, city officials in Wisconsin would want to know how their assemblymen and senators are voting and would continue to watch the roll call and make appearances.

Send Representation

Alliance delegates here agreed that they would continue to push together and felt that when they are unable to appear at legislative hearings, it would be well to send some members of their city councils.

"Eau Claire might lose about $300,000 on the Tarr tax plan, but we will still support the change because the formula needs to be changed," commented Willis Olson, Eau Claire finance director.

He said Eau Claire and other cities in the alliance are "standing up and supporting principle rather than being parochial."

The alliance received reports that the Tarr tax proposal, favored by a 3-2 vote in a senate committee headed by Sen. Gerald Lorge, Bear Creek, was now before the joint finance committee of the legislature and has an even chance of passing.

They were referring to Senate Bill 249.

"I have a feeling that Tarr recommendations have been getting a lot of attention and the people are beginning to understand them because of the Alliance of Cities activity," commented Beyer.

"There's no doubt about it," added Mayor John Kannenberg, Wausau. "We all appeared at hearings and will continue to do so."

Although the alliance lacked a quorum of 12 in the forenoon, weather conditions were expected to allow others to arrive and the agenda was to be confined specifically to updated reports on the Tarr Task Force bills and legislation pending concerning homestead tax relief, police aid and matters relating to annexation.

MENASHA — Police were called to a Kaukauna Street home shortly before midnight by a woman who said an ex-boy friend struck and shot at her.

Police said that the woman had fresh scratches on her hand and neck, received when the man knocked her to the couch.

He allegedly pulled an automatic handgun, showed the victim that it was loaded by pulling the slide, and then fired one shot into a small end table about six to 12 inches above the woman's head. Then he left in his car.

He told the woman he had been drinking in bars all day and "I killed you over and over about 20 times today."

A pick-up order is out on the man. He reportedly telephoned another Twin Cities woman from the Kaukauna Street residence before leaving, but police learned that he did not arrive at the second woman's house as expected.

Thief Takes $257 From Bowling Alley

MENASHA — A thief was believed to have lurked in a space above a false ceiling until after the Twin City Bowl, 981 Plank Road, was closed early Friday. Then he looted two cash registers for $257 and smashed into several coin operated games and other devices to steal an undetermined amount of coins, according to police.

Police said the thief, who may have let accomplices into the building to assist him, did at least $600 in damage in the process of breaking into the machines.

A patrolman in a squad car heard the bowling alley's alarm bell ringing at 2:12 a.m. when he used the parking lot to turn around while on patrol.

By coincidence, the owner of the establishment, David Miringhoff, drove into the parking lot at about the same time after having been out of town.

Burglars Caused Extensive Damage to coin-operated machines at the Twin City Bowl in Menasha early Friday. Police said $257 was taken from two cash registers and damage to the machines amounted to at least $600 in the break-in. (Post-Crescent Photo)

The PSC stated the new facilities are necessary to link the Point Beach and Kewaunee Nuclear Power Plants with the two utilities. The point is being built near the Two Rivers by Wisconsin Electric and Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., Appleton, Wisconsin.

In addition, the PSC granted Public Service Corp. and Wisconsin Power and Light Co., Kewaunee Plant with Madison Gas and Electric Co.

The new line and interconnection facilities are expected to be completed in 1971.

Chilton Youth Wins Contest Rodney Gasch Tops FFA Sectional Speaking Test

CHILTON — Rodney Gasch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gasch, Chilton, has advanced to the state level in the Future Farmers of America speaking contest.

He won the sectional title Wednesday at Denmark High School.

Gasch won the local contest, and the district at Brillion prior to the sectional. He will participate in the state eliminations from which the state finalists are selected. Eliminations will be conducted in June during the state FFA convention at Green Lake.

Gasch's speech, "The FFA Points the Way," elaborates on the conduct and the reactions of his generation and the relationship of the organization in developing leadership, patriotism and character.

Contestants are questioned after each speech to test for knowledge and depth of information on the topic.

Judges for the sectional were Ernest Erbar and Bernard Murray, both of Brown County extension office, and Dale Aebischer, State Department of Public Instruction.

3 Injured, Taken To Hospital After Auto Hits Bridge

CHILTON — Three persons were injured in a one-car accident about 3:45 p.m. Friday seven miles northeast of Chilton on a town road in Rantoul.

Mrs. Jerome Broehm, 25, Nick F. Schaefer, 25, and Robert Weeks, 25, were injured in the crash. Mrs. Broehm was taken to Calumet Memorial Hospital by ambulance and squad car. The injured were taken to Calumet Memorial Hospital by the Town of Grand Chute store with a jib saw under his coat.

According to Calumet County police the Broehm auto was traveling west on a town road and struck a bridge. The road store and attempted to get a slipper at the time of the crash valued at $17.95. Mrs. Johnson were in the front seat.

Observing that they used a sophisticated method of learning, the court was informed that most shoplifters obtained a refund on another item an hour earlier.

When they were booked into jail, they gave the names C. Jay and Joann Cross. Police later learned their true identity. They had pleaded guilty of theft earlier this month, but Schaefer ordered them held in jail until Friday, pending a pre-sentence investigation.

Thomas Cane, assistant district attorney, urged the court to impose the maximum, six-month sentence, calling Mrs. Johnson and Rodenkirchen "professional shoplifters."

Schaefer, noting that the pre-sentence report did not establish them as "professionals," stated, however, that their venture at K Mart "was a well-planned deliberate shoplifting scheme."

Ex-President Of Lawrence Quits at Duke

Dr. Douglas Knight Hasn't Yet Revealed Plans for Future

DURHAM, N.C. — Dr. Douglas Knight, the youngest man ever to serve as president of Duke University, resigned Thursday to accept "an attractive new position" elsewhere. He did not elaborate on the new job.

Knight came to the school from Lawrence University, Appleton, in 1963 at the age of 42.

He had assumed the Lawrence presidency at the age of 32, and was the 11th man to serve as head of the Appleton institution. He was selected from a Yale University classroom in 1954 and was the youngest college president in the nation at that time.

9-Year Tenure
Knight's nine-year tenure at Lawrence brought a 300 per cent increase in the book value of the school's physical plant and a 150 per cent increase in the book value of its endowment.

Six major buildings were constructed on the Lawrence campus during his term in office and he formulated a 10-year, $12.5 million development program prior to his resignation.

The two largest gifts in the 115-year history of the college came in the last six months of Knight's administration. One was a $2 million conditional Ford grant, which was the largest corporate gift and a $1 million bequest from Casper E. Youngchild, Appleton, for a new science hall, the largest individual gift.

Faculty Salaries

During his administration Knight also doubled faculty salaries, created a substantial program of support for faculty research, and increased both the numbers and scholarly preparation of the teaching staff.

Major changes took place in the curriculum, chiefly in non-European studies and interdisciplinary teaching. The entire structure of the college was changed to a three-term, three-course plan.

He had two foreign assignments. One was a trip to interview European educational leaders in 1960 to gather material for "The Federal Government and Higher Education." The other was a mission to Karachi, Pakistan, in 1961, as one of three United States delegates to a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization conference of Asian university presidents.

Man Given Probation for Rape Attempt

Caught Near Scene Of Alleged Assault By Appleton Police

After being imposed a five-year-reformatory sentence in Outagamie County Judge Nick U. Schaefer Friday placed a 25-year-old Nichols man on two years probation for the attempted rape of a woman in Appleton early Sept. 21.

James L. Mory pleaded no contest and was found guilty of the felony count on Jan. 23. Sentencing was delayed to allow for the mandatory 60-day medical and physical examination.

Mory was taken into custody by Appleton police shortly after he attacked a 23-year-old woman near her north-side home about 3 a.m. Sept. 21.

The mother of four testified that Mory attacked her as she walked from her driveway to her back door. A neighbor heard her screams and called police, who caught Mory near the scene.

Asks Sentence

Thomas Cane, assistant district attorney, termed the charge against Mory "one of the most atrocious types of offenses that can be committed." He asked the court to impose a jail or reformatory sentence.

Mory's attorney, asking for probation, cited the man's "impeccable record."

Schaefer told Mory that maximum sentence for attempted rape is 15 years in prison. As a condition of probation to the State Department of Health and Social Services, Mory is to pay all court costs. Schaefer said he was considering, in large part, information contained in a presentence report in imposing the penalty.

Borderline Property

Petition Filed to Detach Land From Stockbridge District

STOCKBRIDGE — A petition asking for detachment of a 50-acre parcel in the Stockbridge School District and attachment to Chilton has been filed by Melvin Thiel, route 3 Chilton, with both school boards.

The Thiel property, containing home and farm buildings, is contiguous to both districts and according to law, borderline property owners must file petitions with both districts. Notice of petition must be published 20 days prior to meetings of the boards. Officials have 60 days to act and if action is not taken in that time the petition is considered denied. A majority vote of both boards is necessary to bridge the petition.

Mr. and Mrs. Thiel discussed reasons why they were requesting detachment with Stockbridge Board of Education here Thursday. They explained that they have paid tuition to Chilton for one of their children and in jail would have another child attending high school.

A petition last year was denied when several of their neighbors, who were paying tuition, were released. Thiel pointed out that "it just happened that last year we did not have a tuition student and we were told that you would reconsider it this year."

Tax Base Loss

Board members stated they were opposed to more detachments and regretted that they had agreed to others because of the loss of tax base to the small school district. The Thiels said they felt Chilton offered better educational opportunities.

They also pointed out that they have another child attending parochial school at Jericho, Ken. Appleton, past state committee that school closed in the near future, they possibly would wonder of the American Legion he faced with sending the child post at King.

Chilsen, Obey at Odds on ABM System Deployment

Legislative Nominees For Seat Vacated by Laird Debate Issues

STEVENS POINT (AP)—The two nominees for the 7th Congressional District seat vacated by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird offered opposing views Friday on state finances, campus disorders and Laird's proposed antiballistics missile system.

The two state legislators, Democrat David R. Obey of Wausau and Republican Walter J. Chilsen of Merrill, appeared before 850 persons at Stevens Point State University in their first, and presumably only, debate of the campaign leading to Tuesday's special election.

Both agreed on a need for reductions in federal defense spending, and both offered guarded replies concerning birth control.

The ABM system, state taxes and campus discord provided them with handier points for disagreement.

Obey said he cannot agree "at this time" with proposals by Laird and the Nixon administration to spend funds on an ABM system.

Limited Deployment

Chilsen said that "as a candidate with the same limited access to facts as my opponent, I stand with Secretary Laird for a limited deployment of the ABM."

Homestead Tax Relief Backed By Alliance

Proposed Measure Would Ease Tax Load for Elderly

Post-Crescent Staff Correspondence

MILWAUKEE — A bill which would liberalize homestead tax relief for the elderly was proposed here Friday afternoon by Mayor Henry Maier of Milwaukee and drew statewide support from other municipal officials.

The proposal would amend senate bill 102 and would:

—Set 40 per cent as a portion of rent to be counted as property taxes. A present law states that 25 per cent can be counted.

—That when property taxes, or rent counting as taxes, exceeds $500 in the year for which the claim is submitted, the amount of taxes or rent shall be considered to have been $500. The present figure is $300.

—Would include the change of the income provisions of the homestead tax relief law, making it more liberal and favoring elderly persons on fixed incomes.

Commenting on Maier's proposed amendments, Mayor Wallace Burke, Kenosha, declared, "People on fixed incomes can't afford to pay anymore. They need this liberalized homestead tax relief."

Mayor William Beyer, Racine, said that he felt many elderly people who previously had no knowledge of the homestead tax bill are now getting informed on their own initiative or through voluntary groups of citizens in the community explaining the possible benefits for which they qualify.

Appleton was the lone alliance city represented from the Fox Cities.

There has been $7,343 less in revenues than anticipated

—A physical science program had been added along with speech therapy.

—About 15 per cent of state aids had not been received.

—There was an increase in transportation costs.

—Salary adjustments and revenue had been lost through detached property.

Association members stated they felt the program was necessary as a large percentage of students participated and they believed the band is of a high caliber because of the summer program. Instructor Norbert Franz said 49 students participated last year, 19 beginners, 20 advanced and 10 in cadet band. There are 65 enrolled in music this year.

It was agreed that by mid-May the district would be able to take a clearer look at its budget and would know by then if it would receive more state aids enabling continuation of the program.

Purchase of an oboe for the band tabled last month, possibly could be a project of the association, it was decided.

In other action, the board agreed to delete baseball this year as not enough interest had been shown in forming a team. Only 10 boys reported for the program. However, this too would be reconsidered if more boys wanted to participate in the near future. If the school does not field a team this year, it will be the first time in the school's history.

Make-Up Days
Board members discussed the four school make-up days and concurred with the faculty to have school Maundy Thursday; make up one day in April instead of teachers attending the Northeastern Wisconsin Teacher's Convention; use one in-service day the last week of school and have classes on Memorial Day.

A request for early dismissal of a boy to assist with farm work was denied as board members said they believed his education was more necessary.

It was reported that an advisory vote would be taken at Hilbert on a possible merger with Stockbridge on April 21 and a joint meeting of the two boards would be conducted Monday, the place to be announced. One board member reported a request from several Sherwood residents to attend and it was reported the meeting was for anyone who wished to come.

Other announcements included the appearance of MacDowell Male Chorus from Appleton at the school Sunday; a car wash by the junior class on April 5; a hootenanny by the home economics class on April 11 and the band and chorus solo and ensembles at Omro on April 12.

William A. Kramer, Town of Fremont chairman, who has represented people in that area for the past 51 years, will be a sideline in Tuesday's election. He will be honored by his constituents at an open house at the town hall election day. He served as clerk from 1918 until 1932 and has filled the position of chairman ever since. (Schmidt Photo)

Insure Continuity

Planners Ready Park Program Policy Paper

A policy statement to guarantee continuity in Outagamie County's park program has been prepared by the North-eastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission.

Charles Hervey, chief park planner for the commission, presented the report to the park committee Thursday. The committee indicated it would study the recommendations.

Maintain Continuity

Hervey said the statement was aimed at insuring that, although the members of the park committee would change over the years, the basic long-range goals and objectives would remain the same.

Hervey indicated this would help to maintain continuity in parkland purchases and park development. Outagamie County's park program has, however, not have a policy statement as comprehensive as this proposal.

South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu said "Eisenhower was a truly great hero of the Free World. His passing is mourned by all free men."

In Tokyo, Prime Minister Eisaku Sato said he was deeply distressed to learn of the death of the leader "who loved peace."

Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau said Eisenhower was particularly understanding of Canadian problems and Canadians "will long remember the leadership he gave."

Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz cabled Mrs. Eisenhower that her husband's name "will always be bonded to the struggles for the best causes of humanity."

Tito "Grieved" President Tito of Yugoslavia said he was "greatly grieved over hearing of the death."

But Communist Cuba's Havana Radio had no praise. It said Eisenhower's administration "was distinguished by an increase of the warmonger hysteria in the United States."

The Havana broadcast called him the organizer of the Bay of Pigs invasion carried out during the subsequent administration of John F. Kennedy.

The leaders of Russia, a country allied with America in the Second World War II but its antagonist in the Eisenhower years, were silent. Moscow radio reported the death in a one-sentence item without comment.

Earl Warren, whom Eisenhower appointed chief justice said the Supreme Court will meet Monday morning but immediately adjourn out of respect.

"The passing of General Eisenhower closes an illustrious chapter of world history," Warren said. "His accomplishments in war and peace distinguish him as one of the great men of this century."

Wildcat Strikers To Return to Jobs

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Members of United Auto Workers Local 75 will return to their jobs Monday, a union spokesman said Friday, after staging a wildcat walkout that resulted in partial shutdowns of the Milwaukee and Kenosha facilities of the American Motors Corp.

About 100 workers walked off their jobs in the paint and trim department of the Milwaukee plant Thursday, causing a shutdown that sent another 2,000 Milwaukee employees home and halting production on one assembly line in Kenosha.

AMC is Wisconsin's largest private employer.

Bernard Lapianka, president of the local, said the strikers met Friday and decided to return to work on Monday. He said they agreed that the issue—the disciplining of a union steward—should be settled through grievance procedures.

Major Changes Made on Bill To Cut Budget

$2.3 Million in Programs Restored By State Senate

MADISON (AP) — A budget-cutting bill approved earlier by the Wisconsin Assembly underwent major changes in the Senate during the last week.

The Senate, after lengthy debate, restored about $2.3 million in programs eliminated by the Assembly in an effort to fund a $21 million school aids deficit.

The Assembly, meanwhile, passed a bill to require expulsion of Wisconsin public university students convicted of disruptive behavior at any university.

The Assembly's bill, in its second week of Senate debate, is to be taken up again Tuesday.

Restored funds approved by the Senate were proposed in a series of Republican amendments Democrats, outnumbered 23-10 in the upper chamber, have lost all their amendments proposed to date, which would have saved another $2.4 million for the University of Wisconsin from budget cuts.

UW Assistants

Among the funds which senators decided not to cut from the present budget was $600,000 for part-time teaching and research assistants at the university.

The university said the personnel had already been hired and would have to be laid off if the funds were withdrawn.

Senators also put back $127,000 for Inner Core projects in Milwaukee.

"This is of greater psychological than financial significance," said Sen. Henry Dorman, D-Racine, who called the money a "show of good faith."

Programs which will be completed at the state universities as a result of Senate restoration include a dormitory remodeling at Stout State, a library at Platteville State, a parking lot at Superior State, and roof repairs at Whitewater State.

Cancer Research

The Senate also approved a $1.1 million bond authorization which will provide $545,000 for a cancer research center at the University of Wisconsin.

In the Assembly Thursday, a bill which one supporter said would get rid of "roving radicals" who promote student unrest passed by a vote of 88-10.

It would require suspension for at least one semester and up to two years of a Wisconsin university student convicted of disruptive behavior anywhere in the nation.

West led the queen of spades and continued the suit. South ruffed and led out the ace and king of hearts since he could see no way to get to the dummy for a trump finesse. As it happened, the queen of hearts did not drop. South struggled on with the ace of clubs and a club to the queen, eventually losing a spade, a trump and two clubs. Down one, but South had the consolation of feeling virtuous. He had done his own work, and luck wasn't with him.

South would have been better off if he hadn't been so virtuous. He makes the contract if he allows the opponents to help him get to the dummy.

South should ruff the second spade, clear the top diamonds out of the way and then lead the ace of clubs and a low club, leaving the trumps alone. West wins with the queen of clubs and must return a spade since no other suit is safe.

South ruffs again and leads a club to the king. Now East must help declarer get to the dummy.

If East returns a trump, dummy wins with the ten and leads another trump for a finesse. If East returns a diamond, dummy wins, and declarer can lead the ten of hearts, and then the low heart to clear up the trump suit.

Even if East could return a spade, it wouldn't help him. South would discard a club, and dummy would ruff low. The ten of hearts would hold the next trick, after which any lead from the dummy would give South the last three trump tricks.

Dear Wendy: Your mother should have allowed you to take the call and slipped you a note after five minutes. For the future, however, I suggest that all teen-agers who have telephitis (which includes just about all teen-agers) sit down with their parents and decide how much time should be allotted to phone conversations, also how many calls will be permitted. Once that formula is established there should be no more trouble. P. S. The following letter is not from your father. This reader lives 2,000 miles from you!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please tell me what to do about our 14-year-old daughter. She can talk on the phone all day and all night. Yesterday afternoon they tried to call me five times from my place of business and couldn't get me. I lost a good account because of it.

That nutty kid has tied up our phone singing songs, playing records and reciting poems. One friend spent nearly an hour just writing and not to expect any replies.

Dear Empty: Sometimes mail goes astray — so don't judge the boys too harshly. Give each G. I. a second chance. If after two letters you receive no reply, save your stamps, Toots.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I keep hearing that the boys in Vietnam are lonesome and want to receive letters. The other day a man on the radio said it is the patriotic duty of every American to do as much for our boys in uniform as possible.

If the boys want mail why don't they write back? My girl friend wrote to two G. I.'s (she got their names from a cousin stationed in Danang) and she never got an answer. I have written to three different guys and the one in Hue wrote back and said he likes to receive mail but he isn't very good at writing and not to expect any replies.

A New Concept of American Leadership

Former Secretary of State Dean Rusk some time ago warned against the trend toward isolationism in this country that has grown because of disillusionment with the war in Vietnam. There may be some danger of this but it is more likely that our efforts to influence the rest of the world will merely change.

The pendulum has swung back and forth throughout our history beginning with President George Washington's warning against entangling alliances. The young United States wanted an independence of action that it would lose if it became involved in the conflicts of other nations. This point of view lasted until almost the end of the 19th Century when we had our first brush with home grown imperialism which really was merely an extension of the policy of Manifest Destiny. We expanded our control in the Caribbean, our business interests in Latin America and our involvement in the Pacific which was to play such a large part in future years. And there was always the conflict at home between self-interest in our foreign policies and altruism. We wanted to save the world for democracy in 1917 but in the 1920's even our economic policies brought hardship to much of the world. The dedication of the American people during World War II was in the form of a crusade and so has been our opposition to communism (but not to other forms of tyranny) in the 1950's and this decade.

Arthur Schlesinger Jr., who at one time backed our military involvement at the Bay of Pigs, has been having some second thoughts which indicate that once more the pendulum has swung. In Harpers he wrote

The Image of the Indian

American Indians are making themselves heard, with a concern spanning several centuries being presented in a soft-sell, modern approach. The new activity features official written complaints as weapons against those whose portrayal of the American Indian does not agree with that of the National Congress of American Indians.

Subjects of the campaign are the stereotypes that Indians are bloodthirsty savages or slovenly, lazy drunks. Those television or radio producers or newspaper editors who use something the Indians consider derogatory will be notified in a polite and non-pressure tactic manner. TV spot announcements and billboards will promote the campaign and its slogan, "The

New Status for ROTC

The decision at Harvard University to take away academic credit from courses of the Reserve Officers Training Program was not the first such case. Six other colleges do not give credit for Army ROTC and three do not for Air Force ROTC. But the Harvard case is likely to lead to some changes in the ROTC program.

The dispute really involves the Vietnamese war, opposition to the war on many campuses and the drives for student power. Students For a Democratic Society have led the opposition on the somewhat overrighteous grounds that the military is an instrument of coercion and aggression and that even being a member of the military is an infringement on the freedom of others. Some faculty members hold similar points of view but they are probably not in the majority. The faculty opposition is based much more upon the fact that the university has no control over ROTC courses and there is also resentment of the faculty standing given to officers who conduct the courses.

As compulsory programs of ROTC have been curtailed, there have been fewer students enrolled in ROTC. But actually the number commissioned has risen due to the pressures of the war. Membership in ROTC is sometimes patriotic but probably more often pragmatic — students realize they that, "it would appear that in the years ahead America will exercise international influence less by trying to run the planet than by trying to solve the new problems of the high-technology state — the accelerating pace of technical change, the humanizing of the city, the dilemmas of racial justice, the reform of education, the plight of the individual in a world of great organizations... In the years immediately to come, the world will follow us less because of our armed might than because of our capacity to heal the disruptions and fulfill the potentialities of the electronic society. If this is so, then we return to an earlier conception of the way America should seek to lead the world. 'She will recommend the general cause by the countenance of her voice, and by the benignant sympathy of her example,' said John Quincy Adams... 'But she goes not abroad in search of monsters to destroy.'"

This may indeed be something of a return to an isolationist point of view. But in the light of the massive military strength we have and how it has failed thus far in Vietnam for a variety of reasons, it would be well to review the basis of our military commitments in the light of the present day dangers.

The world is too small today for anything like our isolationist policies of the 1920's and earlier. And we have to keep in mind that there are still monsters in the world that might seek to destroy us. But our real leadership in the world depends upon our solving our own massive problems just as we solved the myriad of them since our own revolution.

American Indian — a New Awareness and Readiness."

We may be tempted to smile at such a campaign. But before we discard the attempts of these original Americans to correct the false image many of their fellow citizens have of them, we should check our own attitudes to see if that smile covers a feeling of prejudice toward Indians in Wisconsin. Such a patronizing or looking-down-the-nose attitude is a problem which may not often be discussed, because in some cases it is just the accepted belief. But it does exist. Even if we are not impressed by the campaign of the American Indians to regain some of their stolen dignity, we still should pause to ponder honestly our feelings toward the Indians of this area.

are going to have to serve so they might as well serve as officers. But officials in the Pentagon are concerned that the trend toward taking away academic credit for ROTC courses may cut the supply. The Army gets about half its officers from ROTC, the Navy about 30 per cent and the Air Force 40 per cent.

However, some military officials concede that the trend may instead improve the ROTC programs. More of the regular academic courses will be included in the ROTC program on some campuses which should serve to produce a better educated group of military officers. And the program will be required to work a little harder to sell itself and to demonstrate its relevance beyond the fact that the student must face military service in some form anyway. On some campuses, particularly in the East, it is expected that drills and uniforms will no longer be required.

The idea expressed by some of the youthful opponents of ROTC that if we didn't have a military force we couldn't or wouldn't have to fight a war is naive. But there is no doubt that the military has an influence in American life today that is unfortunate and possibly even dangerous. The curtailment of ROTC reflects the fact that some Americans are aware of this.

Dr. Page Attacks Slanderers

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for April 8, 1869.

The subscriber — Dr. M. F. Page — would respectfully inform those who have been officious in circulating slanderous reports about him: that they would do well to call and settle the matter and save cost, as he intends to serve all alike who are equally guilty.

Some have already done so. One man, under oath acknowledged an unconditional label, and paid $75.

Another man declared he had been deceived, signed a lengthy paper of retractions and paid something over $200.

Parties concerned can arrange this business on these very easy terms, unless they choose to wait for the stronger grip of the law. — M. F. Page.

Dr. M. F. Page expects to be away a few weeks on business, but medicines, also books and cases of medicine can be procured at his residence. See Card to Slanderers.

16 Military Coups in Latin America Since Alliance for Progress Started

BY ARY MOLEON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The recent wave of military coups in Latin America has finally hit the White House.

The return to military rule in most of Latin America is focused today in an eleven-hour effort to defuse a dangerous crisis with Peru.

But the turbulence unleashed by 16 military takeovers since the Alliance for Progress was founded could hit the Nixon administration with tidal force.

If the Peruvian junta does not take what the U.S. considers to be "appropriate steps" toward compensating the International Petroleum Corp. for properties it expropriated last fall, Nixon is required by law to cut off most U.S. aid to Peru.

President Nixon has said it might have a "domino effect" all over Latin America.

There is a strong undercurrent of Nasser-type officers in the Latin military establishment.

Nine of the 19 Alliance's Latin member countries are now ruled by the military. There was only one military government when President Kennedy launched the program to accelerate economic progress within a democratic framework.

NOT MUCH PROGRESS
The progress has not been impressive. For every billion dollars the United States has furnished to the Alliance, 20 million Latin Americans have lost the right to self-determination. Today three out of every four Latin Americans live under military rule.

Total Latin American military expenditures in 1965 were $1.5 billion, 50 per cent in excess of what the United States was committed to appropriate that year in economic aid to the area.

Sometimes the Latin Military is more concerned with arms purchases than in achieving social goals. The Latin American military establishment takes 2.4 per cent of the area's gross national product.

War among Latin American countries is unthinkable because of existing Western Hemisphere treaties.

Why the huge arms expenditures? The Latin soldier loves to toy with them.

Argentina has just escalated the Latin arms race by announcing the purchase of three destroyers and two submarines.

Brazil, Chile and Peru are likely to follow suit, raising the prospect of another arms race similar to the one touched off three years ago when Argentina bought 50 jet bombers.

Pentagon experts said the Argentine ship purchases have "little military significance" and that they serve merely for "reasons of prestige."

Despite the continuing search for military advantage, the possibilities that weapons will be used against other Latin American nations are considered remote.

WAR AN IMPOSSIBILITY
War in the Western Hemisphere is seen as a political absurdity and a military impossibility.

According to existing treaties, any country which launches an attack against another member of the hemisphere alliance would automatically be considered at war with the rest of the treaty nations, including the United States.

Pentagon experts say the real threat facing Latin American nations comes from within.

Arms purchases, they say, should correspond to the needs created by indigenous insurrections.

At the Latin American summit conference at Punta Del Este in 1967, a resolution was passed to "limit military purchases to the levels required by demands of national security."

Nonetheless, efforts made at a preparatory conference to define unnecessary military spending ended without agreement.

The Argentine plan to build up its fleet with the purchase of two submarines involves supply by West Germany of the parts, which will be assembled in Argentina itself.

It is also reported that conversations on arms purchases are going on between Argentina and Great Britain.

CONSIDER NEW SUBS
The purchase from West Germany would raise to four the number of Argentine submarines — the same number now owned by Brazil. Brazil has dispatched officials to Great Britain to study the financing of possible purchases.

Chile, which is in dispute with Argentina over islands at South America's southern tip, possibly would join the arms race, increasing its submarine fleet, which now numbers two. Eventual action by Chile could cause repercussion in Peru, owner of four submarines.

Moreover, Venezuela, citing its need to patrol its offshore waters because of the threat from Cuba, also might join the race.

A similar situation was produced in 1965 when Argentina purchased "Skyhawk" bombers from the United States. Chile followed this with the purchase of 21 British Hawker Hunter planes, and Venezuela reacted by buying 72 West German Sabre jets.

Peru, in turn, went to France to purchase a dozen Mirage 5 jets, and then Brazil entered negotiations for the purchase of a jet, also from France.

When the Peruvian junta took over the $135 million IPC complex, it flew a French-made Mirage over the refinery and oil fields.

Experts are now waiting for the response of other countries to the Argentine purchase from Great Britain of Sea Cat rockets for its navy.

The U. S., recognizing the limited possibilities of a conventional attack against any Latin American nation, has tried to discourage the purchase of military equipment more sophisticated than needs require.

Efforts to this end failed earlier this year when the Inter-American Committee on the Alliance for Progress showed little interest in including the arms question in its annual economic review of member nations.

Sol Linowitz, U. S. ambassador to the OAS, suggested other forums were being looked into for possible discussion of the problem, perhaps the OAS itself.

Taxpayer Revolt Near But No Relief From High Taxes in Sight

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Sen. Proxmire recently reported his astonishment about his discovery of the overwhelming desire of his constituents for some relief from their tax burdens and especially those occasioned by the highest national government spending, by far, in the history of the republic.

A mail poll of selected constituents showed that there is approaching a taxpayers' revolt, according to his summary. This echoes some of the warnings of municipal government heads in Wisconsin and some of the leaders of the state legislature who are lying awake nights wondering how to handle the vast gap between proposed expenditures and prospective state treasury income that confronts them.

Sen. Proxmire undoubtedly has an eye on his re-election problem of next year. He has accompanied the disclosure of his findings about the taxpayers' state of mind with a number of tough proposals for the reduction of federal expenditures.

ESTIMATE IS ACCURATE
But there can be little doubt that his prognosis is accurate enough. Every other politician in Wisconsin, and perhaps in America, is generally aware of the discontent of the average man — not the rich, and not the poor, but the man in the middle — who is bearing a higher burden of governmental cost in ratio to his income than any preceding generation of his kind.

What Sen. Proxmire undoubtedly knows from his vantage point as a ranking member of the U. S. Congress, but what the man in the street may not understand so completely, is that there is, nevertheless, relatively little prospect for substantial relief.

Indeed, the pressure of inflation, combined with the burden of growing tax liability, makes the outlook a good deal less than cheerful for the young or young middle-aged family man as he contemplates what is going on around him.

HOPED FOR CHANGES
It may be presumed that many of the persons who voted to put the Nixon administration in power hoped that the cost of the national government would be stabilized at the least. But the outlook is not promising. The talk of a new anti-missile program, the explorations into outer space, the lack of any reasonably credible assurance of the ending of the Vietnam war, none of these indicate to the realist preparing to make his tax reconciliations next month that the ensuing year will bring anything very different in his relations with the Internal Revenue Service.

Meanwhile, except for the extraordinary federal costs such as the defense budget, the ratio of state and local spending has been increasing more rapidly than that of the national government. Local officials are at their wit's end in arranging a balanced local budgets in the face of commanding pressures for more expenditures that are difficult to deny, such as those for the schools. They are turning ever more desperately to Madison for relief, while the men who hold the responsible elective positions in the state government that differ only in detail — as in the pressure for ever expanding higher education budgets.

STANDS BEHIND BUDGET
No doubt there are some of his good supporters who are curious, if not disappointed, about the fact that Gov. Knowles is standing behind a new budget that leaves a revenue gap of some $400 million, which is historic in size even if the effects of inflation are considered. Would Knowles have tried harder to hold the deficit down if he intended to run again? Some believe that he would. Yet he seems utterly convinced when he says that he saved spending requests by $200 million and could not conscientiously go beyond that.

Now the job is before the legislative Finance Committee, which no doubt by the design of the legislative leadership is controlled by men of more conservative instincts on fiscal matters than the average among the Republicans in the legislature. These men are showing a determination to cut below the governor's figures.

No doubt they will succeed to some extent. But if they cut out even $100 million, it will be a small miracle. But it won't avoid the need for a hefty increase in state taxes and it won't provide the bounty in the form of more state aids for the localities that they so desperately hope for to hold down their local tax rates next year.

Lists Qualifications Of School Candidate

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

Your editorial in the Sunday, March 24, Post-Crescent notes that you do not have adequate information and facts on Mr.

Donald Schmitz who is running against Mr. Kahl for State Superintendent of Schools. Perhaps, in the public interest, you might like to publish this brief list of Mr. Donald Schmitz' qualifications:

Mr. Schmitz graduated from La Crosse State Teachers College with a Bachelor's Degree in Education. He obtained his Master's Degree from the University of Wisconsin. On every level of education, he was an honor student. He has been a teacher, a High School Principal for five years, and a Superintendent of Schools for the past 17 years. Mr. Schmitz is a devoted father and family man. He is an experienced and respected administrator.

He believes that the present administration is pointed in the wrong direction when they aggressively promote greater centralization of educational control.

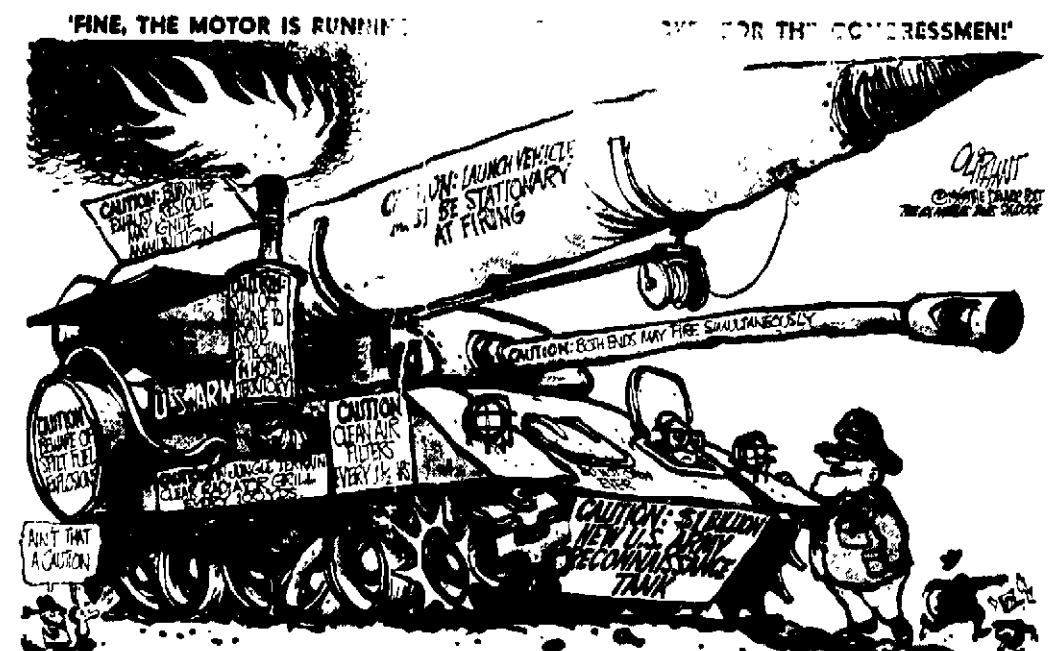

He believes that consolidated areas of 1,000 square miles with children spending as many as 3 to 4 hours a day on a bus is not quality education under any guise.

He believes the present administration has gone stale and lacks enough foresight and initiative to develop the atmosphere for a more effective education in Wisconsin.

He believes that a rapid escalation of only spending dollars as now practiced will not produce the quality education the citizens of Wisconsin seek.

These, then, are the qualifications and attitudes of Mr. Donald Schmitz.

WORD STUDY: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: PARVENU: an upstart, one who has suddenly gained new wealth, power or prestige. (Pronounce par-veh-nu, accent first syllable).

How are we to deal with the insufferable air of superiority this parvenu has taken on?

Choose a simple flower such as a daisy, cosmos or a wild rose. If the petals are all alike, pull off one for a pattern and folding the thin colored paper as many times as there are to be petals, cut around the real petal as the boy is doing in figure 2. This will produce the correct number of petals, all like the real ones.

Out of green paper cut several leaves using a real leaf as a pattern. Also cut a green stem. Finally, cut from yellow paper a piece that is the shape of a real flower center. If the center is covered with yellow stamens, cut a fine fringe in a piece of the yellow paper and clip off tiny bits of it. Set these aside in a little pile.

Paste the green stem on the black paper, curving it exactly as the stem of the real flower. Paste the yellow center at the top. Spread paste over the center and into it drop the tiny particles cut from the fringe.

Curl the paper petals over a scissors blade to make them look real. Apply a bit of paste to the stem end of each petal and attach it to the center as in figure 1. Attach the leaves.

Appleton Alderman Candidates Give Opinions on Municipal Operations

For many years the League of Women Voters of Appleton has asked questions of the candidates for local offices and given the answers the widest possible circulation. The following questionnaires were returned by alderman candidates involved in contests in the April 1 election. The Post-Crescent earlier ran the questionnaires of those candidates who ran in the primary election.

The biographical data preceding the answers were given to league members by the candidates and was written into paragraph form by the Post-Crescent. The answers to questions are published just as they were written by the candidates — they have not been edited or changed.

William H. Wachtendonk, 47, 681, Appleton, a self-employed accountant, lists among his qualifications 23 years experience as an accountant. He has been a member of the park board for 8 years, of the planning commission for 3 years, is the Appleton Housing Authority finance chairman and has been an alderman for two years.

Can you suggest more economical procedures for operating the city?

Weekly meeting of all departments heads to be held on a regularly assigned date. Plans of work schedules and coordinating the various departments to prevent duplication of unneeded problems.

Install a central purchasing department as far as it is possible. The answer to the question can best be stated: We have to establish lines of communication which go both ways.

On the basis of this year's experience with the executive budget, what suggestions would you have for budget procedures subsequent years?

This year's experience with executive budget was a good one to say the least. I firmly believe that the citizens of Appleton have the right, and deserve to be told the situation of the budget as to how much we will need and what it will be used for. Keep the citizens informed at all times of economic situation as it is.

AS SOMEONE WOULD SAY, THE INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO THE CITIZENS IS NOT ENOUGH. WE NEED MORE INFORMATION TO BE ABLE TO MAKE A CHOICE. WE NEED TO KNOW THE COST OF THE SERVICES WE ARE RECEIVING. WE NEED TO KNOW THE COST OF THE SERVICES WE ARE NOT RECEIVING. WE NEED TO KNOW THE COST OF THE SERVICES WE ARE RECEIVING AND NOT RECEIVING.

What suggestions can you have for maintaining the present quality of education in our schools while holding down the property tax rate?

I think we must explore all avenues of taxing the new tax exempt property in the city. This property should also be checked periodically to see what use is being made of it. We would probably find some property being used to gain revenue, and, if so, it should be on the tax roll. Creating a sanitary district, which I believe is now under study, might also be a good step.

On the basis of this year's experience with the executive budget, what suggestions would you have for budget procedures for subsequent years?

I am very happy with the first year of the executive budget. Being new to everyone, I think the mayor and finance director did an outstanding job and with the experience of this year behind them, they will continue to submit a realistic budget with the taxpayers in mind.

What suggestions can you make for maintaining the present quality of education in our schools while holding down the property tax rate?

We must continue on the idea of using some of our old school sites rather than building new schools to keep our bonding down, at least for a few years until we see just what redistribution of state aids for education will really mean to us in dollars and cents. With the school operational budget climbing every year to keep salaries in line to assure use of keeping our fine grade of teachers, we must hold down the bonding end of the school costs.

What suggestions do you have for bringing commerce and industry into the corporate limits of Appleton?

I think our present administration has taken great study in the field. The commerce and industry development committee have been working overtime on this problem and we must keep a land bank for industry. When some potential industry is ready to move, we have to be ready to offer them what they need in land and utilities. This is another reason to keep our spending down so our tax rate in the city won't discourage a labor force which is greatly needed for industrial development from moving into Appleton.

What better use can be made of the city's comprehensive plan?

Our comprehensive plan should be used as a guide line for us, as was the case in helping to pick the site for the new safety building. I would rather see our planned annexation plan being pushed a little more. We seem to be falling behind in the first stages of this plan and I believe we could do a little more in this area.

'Strength and Honesty'

State's Congressmen Join in Ike Eulogy

BY FRANCIS MCKUSICK
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Wisconsin's contingent in the nation's capital today joined official Washington in eulogizing the qualities of strength and honesty displayed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Sen. William Proxmire commented that Eisenhower "brought to the White House a dignity and sense of honor that elevated the presidency in the eyes of the people. He had nothing but scorn for those public men who engaged in demagoguery and character assassination."

Guidelines For Reporting Are Approved

State News Media Sanctions Involve Arrests and Courts

MADISON (AP)—Representatives of Wisconsin's news media have adopted voluntary guidelines for the reporting of arrests and court procedures.

The Wisconsin All-Media Freedom of Information Committee, at a meeting Thursday, adopted the guidelines, which were a joint effort by Wisconsin's news and bar associations. The guidelines are designed to preserve the constitutional guarantees of fair trials and free press.

The guidelines declare that the bench, bar and news media share an obligation to provide the public with objective, accurate and adequate reports of civil proceedings.

The guidelines also warn against premature of one-sided publication of certain court actions and they warn lawyers against making statements for publication regarding evidence to be presented at a trial.

Once the bar adopts the guidelines, it and the news media committee intend to conduct a series of meetings at which they will explain the guidelines to Wisconsin lawyers, newsmen and law enforcement officials.

Greenville Polls Will Be at Municipal Hall not proportionally maintain the high tax rate is to seek efficiencies in operation, maintenance and building of our schools.

One thing that has bothered me is why we were able to build a fine school like Highland Elementary for approximately $11.00 per square foot and if cost in the neighborhood of $26.00 per square foot to build Appleton East High School. The Appleton East High School has twice the space and facilities; however, it cost ten times as much to build. No matter how you look at it — the square foot cost difference should not be that great. Five and one half million dollars is quite a burden on the property tax rate. I personally question whether or not it increased the quality level of our education that much.

4. What suggestions do you have for bringing commerce and industry into the corporate limits of Appleton?

The city of Appleton has been most fortunate in the past five years by receiving several new industries in this area.

The Chamber of Commerce alone could not be expected to lead the way in bringing commerce and industry into our area. The city should lead the way. The city should follow the path of many other cities throughout the United States. We could start an active publicity campaign, not only in the state but across the nation as well. Let the industries know what kind of a place Appleton is. Let's tell it like it is. Our city has many qualifications that could lure industry into making Appleton a home. Let's put ourselves on the map.

5. What better use can be made of the city's "comprehensive plan"?

The city's "Comprehensive Plan" is a lot of what I have mentioned previously. The plan has many good ideas on how to structurally improve the city — thus putting us on the map.

The most successful and most publicized thus far is our College Avenue. This project has already had its impact on the state and even in the state of New York.

The plan was set up with a definite timetable of events. We must be able to adjust and vacillate from this timetable. We cannot be tied to it, when the time is right to make a change or a definite move, we should not hesitate to make it.

By and large it is a good plan and will make a definite change in our city. A change for the future.

After sketching the military career of the general, Proxmire concluded that "President Eisenhower's warning against the influence of the military-industrial complex in his farewell address as president, was never more relevant than it is today as we are about to move ahead with expensive new weapon systems. 'I like Ike' was not just a party slogan. It was the sentiment of the nation."

Sen. Gaylord Nelson commented that "Gen. Eisenhower was a man who commanded the love, trust and respect of America as a general, as our president and as a man."

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Green Bay, pointed out that this was "a time of national sorrow. Dwight D. Eisenhower was one of America's legendary leaders — a hero and a patriot. No one fought harder against tyranny and for peace in the world. No man had a deeper love for his country. Few men have ever enjoyed such a universal respect and affection from their countrymen."

Rep. William Steiger, R-Oshkosh, eulogized Eisenhower's "service to his nation and fellow man which is without an equal. He has left an indelible imprint upon all who knew him, upon those with whom he served and those whom he led."

Neenah Man Fined $150

Clifford R. Wilke Found Guilty of Driving While Tippy

A 12-member Outagamie County Court jury Thursday afternoon deliberated only about 30 minutes before finding Clifford R. Wilke, 42, 156 Wright Ave., Neenah, guilty of driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

Judge Nick F. Schaefer fined him $150 and costs or 37 days in jail and revoked his driver's license for one year.

Outagamie County police arrested Wilke following an accident on U.S. 10, near Dale, about 10:55 p.m. Aug. 10.

UW Student Withdraws Before Trial

MADISON (AP) — James M. Strickler of Teaneck, N.J., a University of Wisconsin student faced with charges stemming from February's campus disorders, withdrew from school Friday.

Earlier in the week, Ronnie Stricklin, a freshman from Milwaukee who faced similar charges, quit school.

The withdrawals left only Richard B. Rosenfield of Olive, Mo., scheduled to be given a hearing Monday before former State Supreme Court Justice J. Ward Rector.

Federal Judge James E. Doyle recently ordered the university to reinstate the three students, declaring they had been suspended without hearings.

The three were ousted following a demonstration in which university property was damaged Feb. 27.

Police Apprehend Youths for Lifting Vending Machine

KAUKAUNA — Police Have apprehended two Appleton youths, ages 18 and 19, who have admitted rifling a soft drink machine at the Consolidated Service Station, 705 Lawe St., about 11 p.m. Thursday, taking an estimated $20 in change.

Man Sought In Menasha Pistol Incident

MENASHA — Police were called to a Kaukauna Street home shortly before midnight by a woman who said an ex-boy friend struck and shot at her.

Police said that the woman had fresh scratches on her hand and neck received when the man knocked her to the couch.

He allegedly pulled an automatic handgun, showed the victim that it was loaded by pulling the slide, and then fired one shot into a small end table about six to 12 inches above the woman's head. Then he left in his car.

He told the woman he had been drinking in bars all day and "I killed you over and over about 20 times today."

A pick-up order is out on the man. He reportedly telephoned another Twin Cities woman from the Kaukauna Street residence before leaving, but police learned that he did not arrive at the second woman's house as expected.

Teacher Attends Hawaii Meeting

OSHKOSH — Virginia Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Krueger, Forest Junction, left today to attend a music conference in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Miss Krueger is the elementary and junior high school general music supervisor for the school system here.

The clinic is sponsored by the Music Educators National Conference, western states division. The clinic will be based on the theme "Music of the Orient" and will involve a research training program.

Judge Candidate Says Post Should Rule Out Other Political Goals

OSHKOSH — Edmund P. Arpin, candidate for Circuit Judge of the newly created second branch, told the Oshkosh Kiwanis Club Thursday, "anyone who seeks a judgeship should be willing to forego political ambitions."

"The integrity of our system of justice is based on the judge's concern for the law for its own sake, not his desire to further a political career from a prestigious position," Arpin added.

"If a judge is to perform adequately," he concluded, "he must be willing to sacrifice personal ambitions of a political nature and dedicate himself to serving the people and the law."

Pupils Honor Retiree

Custodian Is 'King'

NEENAH — Pupils at McKinley Elementary School presented a robe and crown Friday to Custodian Arnold Prentice in recognition of his 10 years with the school.

Prentice is retiring this year. Prior to coming to McKinley he spent 10 years with the high school.

Each class sang a song honoring the custodian and then the students presented him with about $35 in dimes in small red buckets.

In addition Paul Rasmussen wrote a poem to the tune of "On Wisconsin" and the fifth graders sang it. Brownie Scouts, who have met at McKinley after school, presented Prentice with a gift.

The brief ceremony ended with all the pupils, from kindergartners through sixth graders, singing, "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow."

John Hovie, principal of the school, said the school staff and friends of Prentice took him and his wife out to dinner a week ago.

Gas Service in Reach For Redevelopment Foe

MENASHA — The Public Service Commission notified a redevelopment area businessman this week that the amount of natural gas he would have to guarantee to use, in order to receive a gas line to his business, has been reduced from $700 to $250.

Charles Heinz, 337 First St., had objected strenuously during the public hearing on the Carley Redevelopment Plan March 5. A major complaint was that because of the project, Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. had refused to provide him with gas service unless he guaranteed he would use enough gas to pay for the installation in the next four years.

He said he needs the service to install heat in a former dairy company garage where he plans an auto repair shop.

Heinz said at first he had been told the amount he would have to guarantee would be $450. He said that later, apparently after utility representatives talked to redevelopment officials, the guarantee was raised to $700 if the installation was made in winter, $500 if done during summer.

Heinz said he would have signed the $450 guarantee but refused to go higher. He was uncertain how long he would be able to operate there if the property is needed for redevelopment.

Hassler Urges Planner To Sell Neenah's Case

NEENAH — Mayor Donald Hassler Thursday night argued for a full-time planner to actively present Neenah's case to potential developers and to bring the city's needs before state officials.

"I tend to think that if we had a man who could go to Madison and put up a good, strong argument, we might have got the access roads at Cecil Street and U. S. 41," he said.

He also pointed out, "Encouragement of industrial development here is completely lacking. This is one of the intangible areas where we could benefit from a planner."

ned industrial park." Fara continued, "We just don't have the manpower for another industry. The labor market just couldn't provide it."

Hassler pointed out, "There are individuals in our labor market that are not being used. The female market is basically untapped."

Ald. Joseph Kraus said, "We have been standing still in the area of commercial and industrial development and perhaps backsliding just a bit. We would probably staff a new industry with the people who are being shuffled from job to job and just don't want to leave the area."

He wrote to the Public Service Commission, which replied this week that the utility firm has given a $250 guarantee price now, Heinz commented, "$250 is agreeable to me." He already had gas installed to serve his home, which adjoins the former Gear's Dairy Garage building.

The PSC letter also informed Heinz that the gas utility has the right to demand a "reasonable" guarantee that its service lines would be used enough to justify the cost of installation. The PSC told Heinz he will be contracted again when the regulatory agency has received an explanation from the utility on how the $250 was determined.

Today in History

Reach Budget Limits

Menashans Demand Walks

MENASHA — The demand for sidewalk construction in the city this summer has already reached the limit of what the public purse will finance, street and sanitation committee aldermen were told this week.

Public works director Joseph Kelsenberg told the committee that enough persons have signed waivers allowing the work to be done to consume the $5,000 budgeted for the purpose.

The city pays one-third, and property owners are assessed for the rest.

The committee was advised it could call off a public hearing planned for April 14, when other property owners will be allowed to voice their reactions to being assessed for walks in addition to those already approved by waivers.

In previous years, public hearings have often prompted heated objections from land and home owners opposing attempts by city officials to order sidewalk construction.

Menasha Voter Lists Decline

MENASHA — There are 28 fewer voters eligible to cast ballots in Tuesday's election than were registered for last November's presidential and state elections in the city, Clerk H. C. Nelson said.

Compared to 6,604 voters registered for last Nov. 5, there are 6,576 eligible to vote Tuesday.

The first ward showed a gain of 18 voters, to a total of 927, and the fifth ward added 10, for a total of 1,234.

Each of the remaining four wards posted losses, including the second ward, posting a drop of 18, to 1,036; third ward, down 12, to 1,106; fourth ward, down 23, to 1,082; and sixth ward, down seven, to 1,191.

walks replaced in front of their property.

The 2-hour session Thursday was devoted largely to a run-down of pending and proposed public works projects with Kelsenberg, who left the city today for a two-week vacation before his recently submitted resignation takes effect April 11.

Other business included:

—A recommendation for the public safety committee to study a proposal to make First Street between Milwaukee and Racine Streets a one-way artery, for better traffic flow in front of the new library.

—Recommendation to have Sauter-Seaborne Architects, Appleton, draw specifications for new roofing, down spouts and rain gutters at the city offices.

—Recommendations to buy a 1½ ton truck from Fox Valley Truck Service, Appleton, for $3,184, lowest offer from four firms, compared to a high of $3,391.

—Another recommendation to buy a garbage truck chassis from Baur Truck & Equipment Co., Appleton, for $6,145 and the Packer Body for the truck from Bruce Municipal Equipment Co., Elgin, Ill., for $6,375.50.

including trade-in of 1956 model truck to Bauer. Four offers on the chassis ranged from the low offered by Bauer to a high of $6,841. Packer prices ranged upwards from a low of $5,000, but the other two offers, though both lower than the one recommended by the committee, failed to meet specifications.

Neenah Park Officials Okay Sailing Center

NEENAH — The park and recreation commission has conditionally approved plans for a sailing center at Riverside Park.

Meeting this week commissioners gave their approval to the $18,000 structure to be built by privately donated funds with three conditions attached.

According to William Miller, park and recreation superintendent, the conditions were:

—A further review to make sure the chosen site is best. The location chosen by eight sailing groups is on the western side of the park facing the bay.

—An opportunity to review the final building plan.

—Complete financing through private funds.

In health and welfare committee review of the 30-by-20-foot structure, aldermen had been reluctant to extend municipal services to the building at city expense.

The backers of the building had asked the city to extend the utilities from Pine Street, a distance of about 500 feet.

The park and recreation action sends the proposal back to the health and welfare committee to review it again and offer a recommendation to the council.

Announcement was made that the Brillion club will celebrate its 40th anniversary April 17 at Hollandtown and the state convention will be May 22-24 at Lake Delton.

Home Permits Total 32

NEENAH — The number of new homes in Neenah this year has climbed to 32 with three permits being issued Thursday.

The permits include two to Churm Construction Co. for $20,000 homes at 1053 and 1058 Green Acres Lane. Another was issued to Hilde Builders for a $12,500 Honeysuckle Lane Home. All are in the Fifth Green Acres Plat.

High School Musicians Win All-State Honors

NEENAH-MENASHA — St. Mary's High School musicians won all-state honors in percussion, flute, cello, and string bass.

The students were chosen following tryouts which involved more than 1,000 students from throughout the state. The winners will rehearse for one week in June at Green Lake and will play in January, 1970, at the Wisconsin State Music convention.

St. Mary's winner, Peggy Goss, is a member of the clarinet section of the high school band. Alternates chosen were Chris Colbe, percussion; Mary Menasha and Neenah and Cathy Gilligan, flute; Kathy Brehm, cello, was selected of students in band; Neenah High School, Bob Wood, string bass, and Terry Lindemann, flute, were named as alternates. In addition, Bill Cotton, also from Neenah High, was selected for the state honors chorus. Neil Fockel, trumpet, was named to the all-state orchestra, and Ellen Akstulewicz, flute, to the all-state band. Both are students at Menasha High School. Named as alternates are Tom Klim, trumpet, and Debbit Karstus, French horn.

Chilsen, Obey Take Opposite Views on ABM Deployment

Candidates for 7th District Debate Issues at Stevens Point

STEVENS POINT (AP)—The two nominees for the 7th Congressional District seat vacated by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird offered opposing views Friday on state finances, campus disorders and Laird's proposed antiballistics missile system.

The two state legislators, Democrat David R. Obey of Wausau and Republican Walter J. Chilsen of Merrill, appeared before 850 persons at Stevens Point State University in their first, and presumably only, debate of the campaign leading to Tuesday's special election.

Both agreed on a need for re-

Man Given Probation for Rape Attempt Caught Near Scene Of Alleged Assault By Appleton Police

After first imposing a five-year-reformatory sentence, Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer Friday placed a 25-year-old Nichols man on two years probation for the attempted rape of a woman in Appleton early Sept. 24.

James L. Mory pleaded no contest and was found guilty of the felony count on Jan. 23. Sentencing was delayed to allow for the mandatory 60-day social, mental, and physical examination.

Mory was taken into custody by Appleton police shortly after he attacked a 33-year-old woman near her northside home about 3 a.m. Sept. 24.

The mother of four testified that Mory attacked her as she walked from her driveway to her back door. A neighbor heard her screams and called police, who caught Mory near the scene.

Thomas Cane, assistant district attorney, termed the charge against Mory "one of the most atrocious types of offenses that can be committed." He asked the court to impose a jail or reformatory sentence.

Mory's attorney, in asking for probation, cited the man's "impeccable record."

Schaefer told Mory that maximum sentence for attempted rape is 15 years in prison. As a condition of probation to the State Department of Health and Social Services, Mory is to pay all court costs. Schaefer said he was considering, in large part, information contained in a presentence report in imposing the penalty.

Thieves Believed Empty Handed After Break-in

Police believe no money was taken from a dollar coin changing machine that was pried open during a burglary Friday night or early today at Appleton High School-West.

It was the third such change machine burglary in less than a week at Appleton schools. Last weekend $300 was taken from a machine at Appleton High School-East and an undetermined amount of money was missing from a machine at Einstein Junior High School.

Detectives said it has not been determined how burglars entered West, although once inside, they pried open a door and entered the cafeteria where the change machine was located. The machine reportedly had been emptied Friday.

A smaller coin changer was pried off the wall in the cafeteria, but was not entered. The machines are owned by Zaug's Food Service.

Originate in Appleton PSC Approves $3.5 Million Electrical Transmission Line

Two Wisconsin utilities have been granted authority by the State Public Service Commission, (PSC), to construct the necessary facilities for a 40-mile 345,000-volt transmission line from north of Appleton to southwest of Oshkosh.

The proposed $3,528,607 project would be built by Wisconsin Electric Power Co., Milwaukee, and Wisconsin Public Service Corp., Green Bay.

The PSC stated the new facilities are necessary to link the Point Beach and Kewaunee Nuclear Power Plants with the eastern Wisconsin cities served by the two utilities. The point Beach Plant is being built near Two Rivers by Wisconsin Electric and Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., Appleton, Wisconsin Public Service Corp. and Wisconsin Power and Light Co., Kewaunee Plant with Madison Gas and Electric Co.

Alternate Means

The proposed line also will help provide an alternate means for sending power from the Point Beach Plant to the Milwaukee area served by Wisconsin Electric.

According to the PSC, Wisconsin Electric will build the necessary facilities for the interconnection with Wisconsin Public Service Corp. at Wisconsin Electric's North Appleton Substation in the Town of Freedom, Outagamie County. Wisconsin Public Service will construct 40 miles of 345,000-volt transmission line from North Appleton to a point southwest of Oshkosh in the Town of Nekimi.

In addition the PSC granted Wisconsin Power and Light Co. authority to continue the line 22 miles south of its South Fond du Lac substation, at a cost of $2,297,000, bringing the project's total cost to $5,825,607. At South Fond du Lac the proposed line would connect with another now being built south to the Milwaukee area.

The new line and interconnection facilities are expected to be completed in 1971.

'Sophisticated' Methods Minnesota Shoplifters Given 90-Day Terms

Observing that they used "a more sophisticated method of operation than most shoplifters," Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer Friday afternoon sentenced a man and a woman from Lindstrom, Minn., to three months in jail for theft.

Attorneys for Chris J. Rodenkirchen, 52, and Joann Johnson, 46, had asked that their clients receive the same $50 fine as have other persons convicted of shoplifting.

Robert Weeks, security officer for K Mart, testified that he saw Rodenkirchen walk from the Town of Grand Chute store with a jag saw under his coat the morning of March 20.

Minutes later, Weeks said, Mrs. Johnson came into the store and attempted to get a cash refund on the stolen saw, valued at $17.95. Mrs. Johnson claimed the saw was purchased earlier at the store. It later was learned, the court was informed, that Mrs. Johnson had obtained a refund on another item an hour earlier.

When they were booked into jail, they gave the names C. Jay and Joann Cross. Police later learned their true identity.

They had pleaded guilty of theft earlier this month, but Schaefer ordered them held in jail until Friday, pending a pre-sentence investigation.

Thomas Cane, assistant district attorney, urged the court to impose the maximum, six-months sentence, calling Mrs. Johnson and Rodenkirchen "professional shoplifters."

Schaefer, noting that the presentence report did not establish them as "professionals," stated, however, that their venture at K Mart "was a well-planned deliberate shoplifting scheme."

In imposing the three-month sentences, Schaefer also noted that the couple used different names and were not married.

Schaefer continued until April 8, further proceedings against Rodenkirchen and Mrs. Johnson relative to charges that they possessed a switchblade knife found in their car which was searched after they were arrested on the shoplifting charge.

Mrs. Johnson pleaded innocent and Rodenkirchen has not yet entered a plea.

His attorney moved for dismissal of the charge, maintaining that both the criminal complaint and the search warrant were improper in that they did not state probable cause.

Schaefer did not rule on the motions. The knife charge was brought by Outagamie County authorities.

Student-Faculty Talkfest Beer, Snacks Aid Campus Spirit

The aim is to allow students and faculty to meet and talk on an informal basis. Although it's a commuter campus, the school has been proud of its student-faculty relationships, which are aided by its smallness, Mrs. Plummer said.

The topics ranged from Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's death, the Beatles' latest announcement of no more public appearances as a group to the New Administration and the much-debated Vietnam conflict. Serious subjects draw the most discussion, with everyone having an opportunity to air his views.

"It makes for better rapport between students and faculty," Mrs. Plummer said, noting students and faculty become "people, and not just names and faces."

The TGIF parties were started last fall by the student senate, and they have since been run without administrative or faculty help. The parties run from 4 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Fridays.

The keg of beer and the snacks lend to the informal atmosphere.

Students and Faculty Join In a TGIF (Thank Goodness It's Friday) party at the UWGB Fox Valley Campus and conversation, snacks and beer enliven the session. Discussion covers a wide range of understanding. Shown at one of the meetings are, from left, students Donna Perras, Steven Hubers, Phil Weber and Douglas Andrews with faculty members Veldor Koptitzke and Dave Fennema. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Alliance Might Try Working Out Piolt Tax Plan for Cities

Maier Hints Grant Possible for Study

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MILWAUKEE — There is a chance the Alliance of Cities — a coalition of Wisconsin communities — may qualify for a foundation grant to establish a model tax system for a city.

The disclosure was made here Friday afternoon at a bi-weekly Alliance meeting at which officials from a dozen cities agreed that the makeup of the property tax needs a complete overhauling.

Mayors and other city officials concurred in the remarks of Mayor Henry W. Maier, Milwaukee, that the property tax is being used to finance things it was never designed to, such as health, welfare and education.

In-Depth Study

Maier suggested the Alliance might succeed where others have failed and undertake an in-depth study to devise a model city tax system.

"We must look at the present and future problems of our cities," Maier declared. "In the next 10 to 20 years our state will become more urbanized."

Maier indicated — without disclosing the source of his information — that the Alliance of Cities might well receive a grant to probe the property tax problems should it be one of the group's future projects.

"Nobody has tried to analyze what it really takes to finance these services expected of cities," Maier said.

Pinpoint Problems

He felt the alliance represented a common denominator for pinpointing the problems.

"Somewhere in the United States a group like ours should initiate a study," Maier added.

Maier envisioned the alliance also obtaining assistance for a study from the National League of Cities.

"I submit this for your future consideration because it relates to our current activity in supporting the Tarr Task force proposals now before the legislature," he said.

Maier cautioned while it appeared bills growing out of the Tarr Committee report are meeting with some success, he felt it could take two years or more for the alliance to "build up a real head of steam."

Federal Programs

Federal aids and programs also received attention from Alliance cities represented, including Appleton, Neenah and Menasha.

At least six cities are now involved with federal programs and officials expressed concern over the operations of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Appleton, for example, has been bogged down on a proposed housing for the elderly project because its application for a grant of almost two years ago has not received final HUD approval.

"Collectively, we might get to our congressmen — even if we have to go to Washington," one city official suggested.

Never Survive

The subject of property tax relief and need for annexation law reform drew serious response from Ald. Arnold Weidner, Racine.

"If we can't rebuild our central cities now, we will never survive," Weidner said.

He said unless central cities are permitted to grow orderly, urban areas will be so spread out that it will eventually become impossible to rule or govern.

"Unless there is orderly urban growth — that which the central city can provide — you'll see all kinds of shapes of sewer lines a million miles," the Racine alderman exclaimed.

Weidner warned unless cities receive help with their problems, they would "wind up on the end of a rope."

Replaces One Damaged Pumper Leased by Fire Department

The Appleton Fire Department is leasing a pumper to replace a vehicle that sustained from $14,000 to $16,000 damage in an accident Tuesday.

Fire Chief Roland Kuehn said today that his men went to Waukesha Friday and brought back a 1953 American LaFrance, 750 gallon per minute pumper that had been used by the Milwaukee Fire Department.

Appleton will pay $150 per month to lease the vehicle from Carl Groth, a Waukesha fire equipment dealer.

Kuehn said equipment and parts will be taken from the 1950 pumper that was wrecked Tuesday and will be placed on the rental pumper, which is not equipped with fire fighting apparatus.

U.S. Offices Close Monday Day of Mourning Extends Deadline For Medicare Signup

All federal offices in the Fox Cities area will be closed Monday because of the national day of mourning for former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Appleton post office announced there will be no mail delivery or window service on Monday. However, a crew will be on duty sorting mail.

The Appleton office of the Social Security Administration will be closed Monday, Frank Donnick, district manager, said today, and because of the national day of mourning, the deadline date for those born before Oct. 1, 1901 applying for Medicare has been extended through April 1, the district manager noted.

The deadline had been set on or before Monday, March 31 for those who had never applied before.

Appleton City Hall and the Outagamie County Courthouse offices will not be affected. They will conduct regular hours on Monday. The city hall is open from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. and the courthouse from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p.m.

Man Forfeits Bond on Bad Conduct Charge

Daniel P. Callum, 35, who gave an Appleton motel address, forfeited a $54 bond in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Friday on a disorderly conduct charge brought by Appleton police.

Callum reportedly attempted to force his way into an apartment at 211 N. Richmond St., about 8 p.m. March 26.

Little Chute Teen-ager Fined $50 for Theft

Charged following investigation by Little Chute police, Thomas Joosten, 18, 1112 N. Buchanan St., Little Chute, Friday afternoon was fined $50 and costs or 12 days in jail for the March 15 theft of a carburetor from a car owned by George Fiester.

Joosten pleaded guilty in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Statewide Alert Sent Out on Stolen Auto

Outagamie County authorities have issued a statewide alert for a 1969 Mustang stolen from Van Steen Ford, 3030 W. College Ave., earlier this month.

The blue, two-door hardtop has no license plates. The aut was discovered missing this week.

Taxes, Urban Affairs Vow Strong Policy

MILWAUKEE — The agenda has been set for the Alliance of Cities to draw up a strong policy statement on taxes and urban affairs when it meets at Oshkosh April 10.

It will come at a time when the 18-member organization intends to step up its drive in the legislature for passage of bills providing property tax relief and annexation law reform.

This was indicated here Friday when mayors and city managers of 12 of the state's central cities met at the Milwaukee Inn.

They also made it clear they intend to have bills introduced in the legislature at the specific request and sponsorship of the Alliance of Cities.

"With the Alliance entering its own bills, it will eliminate problems of individual authority for one," observed Mayor Henry W. Maier, Milwaukee.

"And it will also keep things in the category of non-partisan ship."

Alliance members were given a tentative draft of amendments to Senate Bill 102, calling for liberalizing the existing Homestead Tax Relief Act. It will be acted on at the Oshkosh meeting.

Hearing Notices

In the meantime, Mayor Otto Festge, Madison, will proceed with opening an office for the Alliance in Madison across the street from the capitol. The organization will hire a fulltime executive secretary next month.

Festge, Alliance president, was unable to attend the conference because of a firemen's strike in his city.

While on the subject of legislative bills, Ald. Sumner Parker of Menasha said members of his city's council were concerned about the short notice given on hearings before legislative committees at Madison.

"Is there some way the legislature can give earlier notice?" Parker inquired. He in turn asked his city council could then take a position in advance.

"It would be ideal but impossible, I think," replied Mayor William Beyer, Racine, Alliance vice president.

"I would say your best bet is to keep in close contact with your local legislators," Beyer suggested.

Calendar of bills to be heard by legislative committees was received a week in advance, it was reported, provided by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance and legislators themselves.

"By voting membership in the Alliance it meant the mayors have to take a position on bills — even on short notice," Beyer advised.
